ALL SET FOR MASS MEETING AT ELK HALL THIS EVENING

Immense Crowd is Assured for This Evening When Chamber of Commerce is to be Organized

With nearly 300 reservations for the dinner now in the hands of the committee on arrangements, success of the meeting this evening at which it is proposed to form a Chamber of Commerce in Appleton is assured. The dinner is to be held at 6:30 o'clock at Elk Club and will be followed by a mass meeting at which it is proposed to effect the organization. Elk hall can provide accommodations for only 250 men for dinner and it is probable that difficulty will be experienced in serving all who wish to attend. There are many other Appleton men who plan to attend the business meeting which begins about eight o'clock when the real work of organization will get under way. As the hour for organization approaches interest in the commercial organization grows. Dozens of men who were rather lukewarm when the project was broached a few days ago are now among the most enthusiastic supporters of the plan and many men who were enthusiastic at the start are now finding it difficult to hold their energy in check until the project is under way. Interviews with Appleton men in nearly every business and profession indicated the city's sentiment. On every hand are heard assurances that organization will be completed without the slightest difficulty and men are pledging themselves to put their shoulders to the wheel to make Appleton a bigger and better city. William C. Wing, chairman of the campaign committee, will preside at tonight's meeting. John Conway, who has presided at a majority of the informal meetings at which the organization was discussed, will present the plan. Presentation of the plan by Mr. Conway will be as brief as possible in order to give plenty of time to Philip A. Graun, secretary of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, who is to be the principal speaker. Other addresses will also be given by F. B. Lurral and Frank H. Smith, president and secretary of the Green Bay Association of Commerce. Immediately after the address by Mr. Graun solicitation for membership will be started. Indications now are that a majority of the 500 members, which is the minimum for incorporation, will be secured before the close of the night. In preparation for tonight's meeting, which is the last of the proposed organization effectively, it will be necessary that it be adequately financed. Organizers aver, if it is impossible to obtain 500 members the project will be abandoned because that will indicate that an insufficient number of men are interested and success cannot attend the undertaking. All members will be signed up for three years to make sure the proposed organization will have time to get started and show results before another membership campaign is attempted. All preparations for tonight's meeting are completed. The committee, which prepared the by-laws and constitution has finished its work and a synopsis of the proposed regulations will probably be read. Mr. Graun will present the city's needs and the aims of commercial organizations; Green Bay men will tell what other cities have accomplished as a result of well organized associations and local men will tell how the plan is to be applied to Appleton. Campaign Teams Ready Immediately after the plan is presented the membership campaign teams, under the direction of W. C. Wing, general chairman, will be ready to start work. Stephen D. Balliet has been named as vice chairman and T. A. Gallacher will act as secretary. The campaign workers will be divided into five divisions with five captains in each division. Each captain will be in charge of three men. These teams will start early Tuesday morning and will endeavor to enlist every public spirited person in Appleton in the organization. The campaign workers follow: Division No. 1 Chairman, F. H. Ryan Captain, H. A. Glendann, Walter Joyce, Harrison, Harry Stoffel, Captain, J. G. Kofford, Jr., George F. Werner, W. S. Smith, Emil Walther, Captain, A. K. Ellis, George Lausman, Earl Kelly, Emil Voelck, Captain, Homer Benton, Robert K. Wolter, Captain, Wm. Fountain, Otto Wolter, Henry A. Wagner, Chris Roemer. MINERS AND OPERATORS MEETING AGAIN TODAY

By United Press Leased Wire New York.—Mine operators and mine workers of the central bituminous districts were to meet here today separate sessions before opening a new conference on a permanent wage and working agreement. The sub-committee of hard coal operators and mine workers which has been in session here since March 8 to draw up a new schedule for the anthracite field, will meet again tomorrow. IRISH DETERMINED TO FIGHT GEORGE'S HOME RULE SCHEME DEBATE ON PREMIER'S BILL OPENS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY—CONSTITUTION IS CHAOTIC London.—Recent events have strengthened the view that an undivided Ireland is impossible for legislative purposes. Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland in prime minister Lloyd George's cabinet, declared in the house of commons late today. MacPherson opened the debate on second reading of the prime minister's new home rule bill. Conditions in Ireland, he said, have strengthened the belief that an advisory council, such as provided in the bill, is necessary. The idea for secession of any part of Ireland is intolerable, MacPherson asserted. Another chapter in the tragic history of Ireland was opened today when the house of commons began debate on Prime Minister Lloyd George's new plan for home rule. Meantime conditions in Ireland were chaotic. H. H. Asquith, former prime minister and now leader of the liberal forces in the commons, signalled his re-entry into public life with vigorous opposition to Lloyd George's bill. Debate was expected to continue three days. The prime minister, Asquith and other party leaders were to participate. Sinn Fein leaders today reiterated their determination to fight execution of the new home rule plan. Recent outbreaks were seen as Sinn Fein warnings. The government also was tightening its measures to repress disorders in the island. Frequent raids were conducted during the past week for caches of arms and a fresh lot of Sinn Fein leaders arrested. It is said there is no cleverer locomotive engineer in Spain than the Duke of Saragossa, a wealthy member of the nobility, who is closely related to the royal family. Since the unrest in Spain has become so new, exaggerated, each time that King Alfonso journeys by train the locomotive is conducted by the duke. CHAS. ENDER, Captain, Wm. Van Nortwick, Wm. Another Toy Plant To Be Started Here

C. L. Wiggin, Former Airplane Mechanic, Will Establish Factory to Build Aeroplanes in Appleton in Near Future Appleton is to add a new toy factory to its list of manufacturing plants. Final plans are being completed today for the manufacture of as many as a dozen patented aeroplanes. The head of the new concern will be C. L. Wiggin of Detroit. Mr. Wiggin is an expert aeroplane designer and mechanic, and was associated with the late "Cal" Rodgers, who made exhibition flights here some years ago. He has designed and has applied for patents on several unique toys, one of which is now on display in the Schaefer Hardware company's window. This one will be called an "aeroplane," being an exact model of a bi-plane, and operating on the ground by foot propulsion. Through the efforts of Fred Felix Wetzel, Mr. Wiggin was induced to choose Appleton as the place for the factory. A corporation capitalized at $25,000 is now being chartered under the name of the Toy Company of America. Mr. Wiggin will be president and general manager, but the other officers and directors have not yet been named. Several locations have been offered for the new plant but none has been selected as yet. It is possible that a separate factory may be established or part of the work sublet to some local concern. Mr. Wiggin expects to be in Chicago during the first three weeks of April to exhibit his models at the convention of toy buyers of the country, who will be at the Hotel Morrison during that time. The selling possibilities of the aeroplanes toys are expected to result in some large orders right at the start.

WILL ORDER MINERS TO REMAIN AT WORK

HEAD OF MINERS' UNION ASSESSES MEN WILL NOT STRIKE WHEN WAGE AGREEMENT EXPIRES, By United Press Leased Wire New York.—Instructions will probably be sent miners in bituminous fields to remain on the job after April 1 when the present wage agreement with mine operators expires. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, said here today. The statement followed a conference between union leaders. The men conferred this morning to discuss the demands which they will instruct their scale committee to make upon operators when the joint conference opens late today. Lewis in opening the census of bituminous miners explained the international officers did everything they could to get the most favorable decision from the commission. The miners seemed to expect no concession on hours but said they did expect more than a dollar a day increase recommended for day workers. They will ask the operators to make this award $1.35 as being more equitable in view of the 21 cents a ton raise for pick and machine workers, they said. The operators also held a caucus. GOVERNMENT TAKES HAND IN OIL LANDS BATTLE Washington.—The federal government in supreme court today intervened in the Red River oil land dispute between Oklahoma and Texas, which has threatened an armed clash between the two states. The government asks that the boundary line of the Red River as it existed on Feb. 22, 1821, be the line of separation between the two states. The position of the government sustains the contentions of Oklahoma, the brief asking that Texas be decreed to have no title to lands north of the old boundary line and Oklahoma no interest to lands south of it. Shipment of Gold By United Press Leased Wire New York.—Gold bullion totalling $4,800,000 consigned to J. P. Morgan and Company arrived here on the Lapland yesterday. This is the first shipment from the British treasury to pay off the Anglo-French five per cent bonds due in October.

PUBLIC CONFUSED BY HOST OF MEN IN WHITE HOUSE RACE

POLITICAL CONVENTIONS AND PRIMARIES FAIL TO GIVE LINE ON STRENGTH OF CANDIDATES STRONG MEN NOT STARTED (By Harold D. Jacobs) By United Press Leased Wire New York.—Political conventions and primaries to date apparently indicated just one thing—that the American people will know who will be the republican and democratic candidates for president after the national conventions in June, and no sooner. Never in recent political history has public sentiment been so widely diffused regarding the eligibility of candidates. Where there have been one or two men in each party who stood out above all the rest, there are now veritable droves of "eligibles." Just how little the results of state conventions and primaries already held really mean is shown by the fact one candidate in each party whom political students figure as sure to be "in the running" at the national conventions have so far received no official endorsement. These men are Herbert Hoover and William G. McAdoo. The former is now generally regarded as a republican, yet the only delegates pledged to him are three democrats. The latter has definitely refused to enter any primary, and his name is not on the list of delegates. Results Up To Date Republican conventions and primaries to date show the following results: STATE Pledged Uninstructed Arizona, Wood ..... 6 ..... 11 Connecticut ..... 11 ..... 8 Florida ..... 8 ..... 17 Georgia ..... 17 ..... 26 Kentucky ..... 26 ..... 12 Louisiana ..... 12 ..... 12 Maine ..... 12 ..... 12 Minnesota, Wood ..... 12 ..... 12 New Hampshire, Wood ..... 8 ..... 22 New Mexico, Wood ..... 6 ..... 22 North Carolina ..... 22 ..... 10 North Dakota, Johnson ..... 10 ..... 20 Oklahoma ..... 20 ..... 10 South Dakota, Wood ..... 10 ..... 6 Virginia, Wood ..... 6 ..... 9 Virginia, Lowden ..... 9 ..... 2 Philippine Islands, Wood ..... 2 ..... 6 MORE This gives a total of 48 instructed delegates for Major Gen. Leonard Wood; 9 for Governor Lowden and ten for Senator Hiram Johnson. Figure On Future Of the uninstructed delegates Lowden expects to get 14 from Connecticut, 17 from Georgia, 26 from Kentucky and 18 from Oklahoma, a total of 75. Wood expects to control eight from Florida, 12 each from Louisiana and Maine and two from Oklahoma, a total of 34. This makes Lowden's possible total to date 84; Wood's 82 and Johnson's 10. This leaves Hoover, Harding and Poindexter entirely out of consideration and puts Johnson far behind in the running. Political observers, however, are certain these four men are reckoned with. Democratic results are even more meagre as regards "dope." They show: STATE Pledged Uninstructed Arizona ..... 6 ..... 26 Iowa ..... 26 ..... 8 Nevada ..... 8 ..... 8 New Hampshire, Hoover ..... 3 ..... 10 North Dakota, Bryan ..... 10 ..... 20 Oklahoma, Owen ..... 20 ..... 10 South Dakota, Gerard ..... 10 ..... 10 Given Leads Democrats The totals that show Senator Robert L. Owen leading with 20 instructed delegates; William Jennings Bryan and James W. Gerard tied with ten each and Hoover trailing with three. No one has attempted to articulate where the uninstructed delegates stand. McAdoo, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Governor Edward I. Edwards, Chapin, Clark and Governor James M. Cox—all conceded a good chance for the nomination—are thus without official recognition so far. The democrats next move will be made April 5 when conventions will be held in North Carolina, Minnesota and the Philippines and primaries in Wisconsin and New York. The republicans will hold a state convention in Kansas March 31 and one in Georgia April 7. Primaries will be held in Michigan and Rhode Island April 5 and in Wisconsin and New York April 6. J. R. Wilkinson of Ecenaha, is in the city today to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. J. W. Appleton.

Rural School Teachers Fix Wage Schedule

Mentors Organize at Meeting in Kaukauna Saturday and Specify Conditions Under Which They Will Work Hereafter School boards of the county schools will be required to pay their teachers higher wages the coming year according to the schedule adopted by Outagamie County Teachers' Federation which was organized at a meeting at the county training school at Kaukauna Saturday which provides that the minimum monthly salary of first year teachers shall be $90, second year teachers $100, and third year teachers $110. The officers of the new organization are: President, Francis O'Hanlon; vice president, Arnold Schulz; secretary, Mary O'Keefe; and treasurer, Anna Bubolz. A resolution was adopted to the effect that no teachers be brought in from outside schools to the detriment of Outagamie county residents teachers and that none but first grade certificate holders be recognized from any other county, provided that such limitations be waived in case of an absolute shortage of teachers. Six central points for meeting places of sectional parts of the federation will be selected, and a new form of contract will be drawn up to be used by the teachers hereafter. The constitution and by-laws were unanimously adopted. A definite policy on the part of the teachers was also adopted having for its purpose the betterment of the work of teachers in the various schools, and also the betterment of the conditions under which teachers work. A copy of the constitution and by-laws will be sent to each school clerk in the county together with a copy of the schedule of wages adopted.

BECKER ACQUITTED OF SPEEDING CHARGE

MUCH POSTPONED CASE BROUGHT TO TRIAL AND DEFENDANT IS FREED BY A JURY Karl Becker of Kaukauna was found not guilty of speeding by a jury in municipal court this morning. The offense with which he was charged was committed on Lake street on May 24, 1919. John Kobussen, motorcycle officer at that time, claiming that he was making 35 miles an hour. Becker was headed towards Menasha at the time. He was notified of the charge against him upon his return and the case was postponed from time to time on account of the absence from home of himself or his only witness, Chelsea Boase, who was with him at the time. According to the testimony introduced it was shortly after seven o'clock when the officer detected Becker speeding. Becker and Boase claimed that they left the Sherman house for Menasha at six o'clock that evening. The jury which was out about an hour consisted of Louis Weimer, John Scheoth, Edward J. Mory, A. H. Mathes, George Feavel and Louis Bergman. Three witnesses, John Kobussen, William Hillman and William Jensen of Menasha testified on the part of the prosecution and two, Karl Becker, and Chelsea Boase, on the part of the defendant. Attorney Berg represented the city and Attorney Krugmeier the defendant. PROPERTY LOSS WILL RUN INTO MILLIONS AS RESULT OF TORNADOES

MARRIED 42 YEARS; BOTH WANT DIVORCE Milwaukee.—Married 42 years and having nine children, Magdalena Jensen has been granted a divorce from Henry Jensen, 63. The husband brought the suit but the wife won on a counter-claim when she charged cruelty and association with other women. STORMS HIT MIDDLE WEST AND SOUTHEASTERN STATES WITH TERRIFIC FORCE YESTERDAY HUNDREDS HOMELESS Engine Cities Are Levelled by Fierce Wind and Fires Aid in Work of Destruction—Red Cross and Soldiers Extending Their Aid By United Press Leased Wire Tornadoes which swept eight states on Sunday claimed a toll of approximately 125 lives, destroyed millions of dollars worth of property and left hundreds of families homeless. Reports today showed there were two distinct storm areas—one in Georgia and Alabama and the other in the middle west. Fire followed in the wake of the storm in some cities, adding to the suffering. Food, hospital supplies, physicians, nurses and clothing were rushed to the stricken areas today. Injured were cared for in temporary buildings. The debris was combed in the hunt for missing. Lagrange, Ga., appeared to be the hardest hit by the storms. Between 40 and 60 were reported killed there and 300 were homeless. West Point, Ga., reported five dead and Askecola, Ala., five dead. The western storm, appeared first near St. Louis where one was killed. It swept northward, branching out over Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, and extending into Wisconsin. It finally spent itself over Lake Michigan. Indiana Hit Hard Reports reaching the outside world over badly crippled wires showed the following Indiana cities hit, with the toll of dead: West Liberty 7 dead; Union City 6; Monroeville 13; Edgerton 1 and Zulu 3. In addition Geneva reported six lost. The towns of West Liberty and Edgerton were reported practically wiped out. The storm travelled northward down the Indiana Ohio line. Van Wert, O., was hit. Two persons were killed by the fire which followed the windstorm. Greenville, O., reported two dead and twelve hurt. Nashville reported five dead. Practically all buildings in Nashville were levelled, dispatches said. The storm, reached the Chicago district near noon, just as the crowds were leaving churches. Seven were killed in Elgin, seven in Chicago and fourteen in the Chicago suburbs of Melrose Park, Maywood, Plainfield and Evanston. 500 Are Injured The number of injured in the eight states was estimated at more than 500. In Michigan eight were reported dead in Wisconsin one. The storm cut a swath 200 feet wide in Elgin, Ill., destroying a theater, two department stores, two churches and many residences. National guard troops, former service men and armed citizens strolled the streets in the stricken cities all night guarding property from looters. Three persons were killed in Elgin when the people of a church collapsed. Another was killed when the storm demolished the Elgin Baptist church. Nearly all cities hit by the tornadoes were without light, water or gas. Resemble War Ruins Chicago.—The western skirts of Chicago made a picture of a war torn country today. Crumpled masonry, hanging wires, twisted girders and piles of debris littered buildings comprised the human and pile over which thousands of persons swarmed today. Clearing of wreckage had begun but the swarms of searchers principally sought for those victims which might have been claimed by the storm. State and city authorities immediately began relief work. The Red Cross sent help a few hours after the storm. The wounded who could not be cared for in the homes still standing were rushed to hospitals in the city proper. The tornadoes, according to the weather bureau here, developed from a storm originating in the far northwest. The whirling funnels were dropped from heavy storm clouds when the storm hit this section, bathing in the first warm weather of spring. From reports here it was believed three tornadoes developed near here. All were reported to have been dissipated on striking the cold air over Lake Michigan. In the Chicago territory the nation-

EADS HEAD BAPTIST DRIVE IN THIS COUNTY

A. R. Eads of Appleton has been appointed to take charge of the Northern Baptist's $100,000 New World Movement Campaign in Outagamie county. His appointment was announced today in Milwaukee by Dr. Hulbert, campaign director for Wisconsin.

STUDY JUDGING IS ADVICE TO BREEDERS

The art of judging is the foundation of all beef cattle shows and is also largely the means of determining the value of cattle offered in public sales. Each breeder, therefore, to attain success in his line must be a good judge, so that he can select and mate individuals to get the best possible offspring. A thorough knowledge of judging feeders, for example, is important, since profit in cattle feeding usually depends upon buying animals of the right type. Without definite standards, stock judging can not be successful. The ideal beef type in the fat animal, to cite another example, consists of a low-set body which is broad, deep and smooth, with straight lines and with a thick, even covering of firm flesh. In addition to this general beef form, good quality is indicated by the hair, hide and bone, together with general character and style, are important, because they are an index to the quality of the meat.

MUST BE A CITIZEN TO VOTE IN SPRING ELECTION

Under the Wisconsin laws no one is allowed to vote who is not a citizen of the United States, that is, a person who was not born in the United States must be a naturalized citizen before he can vote. He must have second papers himself or have been under 21 years of age at the time his father was naturalized. For many years men who were not citizens voted in Wisconsin on their first papers. They cannot, under Wisconsin law, do this any longer.

COMPLETE VICTORY WHEN MIND OF MAN CHANGES FOR GOOD

DR. H. E. PEABODY COMPARES EARLY VICTORIES WITH THOSE ACHIEVED BY THE SAVIOUR

A contrast of complete victory in life with partial victory formed the basis of Dr. H. E. Peabody's Palm Sunday message at the First Congregational church yesterday afternoon. His subject, "Jesus' Triumphant Entry—The Success of Defeat," dealt chiefly with the function of anger. The manner in which Christ applied it and the way in which people use it were compared.

"The only complete victory is that which goes so far that it changes a man's mind toward wrong, no matter how great the victory, the pomp, splendor or otherwise," Dr. Peabody stated.

He traced the qualities of anger, showing how at first its impulse is for destruction and it then shades off to revenge. This does not give victory, however, because it leaves resentment. The idea then changes to one of punishment, which is inflicted without physical injury, and with the idea of continuing as friends afterward.

But anger, when it seeks victory, he continued, is something that is not satisfied unless it changes the mind and wants to do the right. We find in Jesus the hottest anger known but it was of the right type. His anger was not blind and it never blundered. He knew it was not by the use of the sword that victory could be given, but sought the victory that would change the mind and leave a friend where he had an enemy. The speaker emphasized his message by referring to two situations. The first was the scene at Versailles, France, in 1871, when with pomp and ceremony Wilhelm I was crowned. The German people at that time believed in the philosophy that force would rule the world; the French were in a pitiful state. Dr. Peabody characterized that event as the beginning of the downfall of Germany because of their theory. Then in contrast he reviewed the victory of Christ as a conqueror.

"Jesus was overwhelmingly right that the only victory that is really complete was not one by means of force, sword, arms or pomp, but one where the people really change their minds. What stupendous reversals of judgment we have witnessed. What a difference between the scene at Versailles and this Palm Sunday, for we know that Jesus was right. Blessed are the gentle, for they shall inherit the earth. They only have complete victory," he concluded.

DODGED THE DRAFT; NOW HE CANNOT BE A CITIZEN OF U. S.

HENRY STUSSY, APPLETON, FOREVER BARRED FROM BECOMING MEMBER OF U. S. FAMILY

Henry Stussy, a subject of Switzerland, who resided in this city when he took out his first naturalization papers, surrendered these papers to the draft board when he turned in his questionnaire, thereby claiming exemption from military service on the ground that he was not a citizen of the United States. His affidavit by which he claimed relief from military service was obtained by the naturalization bureau and steps were taken at once to forever bar him from becoming a citizen of the United States.

George N. Danielson, United States naturalization examiner, appeared before Judge E. V. Werner at Shawano yesterday and had the judge sign an order cancelling the first paper which is on file with the clerk of the court here.

By the court's order, Stussy is forever barred from becoming a citizen of the United States, as under the federal statute, the surrender of the papers to evade military service, he committed the "unpardonable sin" under the naturalization law.

Examiner Danielson has had many aliens' first papers cancelled in his district for assuming the role of a slacker. He states that several would now do anything for the United States that would be asked if they could only revoke what they did when they filed their questionnaires, but when an alien surrendered his first papers to evade military service, he committed the "unpardonable sin" under the naturalization law.

The examiner will secure from each applicant for citizenship who was of draft age his order and serial number so as to determine what draft class he was in. These applicants will receive letters shortly and are urged to answer the questions promptly, as their petitions will be continued until such information is secured. Hereafter when filing petitions for second papers, applicants are requested to produce their draft classification cards in the clerk's office, so that such information may be taken by the clerk of court.

CLAIMS HIS HENS SET EGG RECORD

Sheboygan—William H. Fuhrman, owner of the Chair City Poultry Yards, this city, claims that his hens have even a better record than that set by those of the Rose Hill Farm at Sturgeon Bay. He states that during the month of February his nine buff leghorns laid 147 eggs, or an average of sixteen eggs per hen. W. H. Lawrence, owner of the Rose Hill Farm, claimed that his brood of fifty-five Rhode Island Red hens had laid 801 eggs, or an average of fifteen per hen.

MILKMEN ORDERED TO GIVE FULL MEASURE

Joseph Hodgins, city sealer of weights and measures, received a letter from the dairy food commissioner at Madison this morning instructing him to see that milk dealers fill their bottles instead of within one-half or one-fourth of an inch from the top. Complaints have reached the Madison office that milk dealers have been lax in this respect. Some of them who fill their bottles with machines claim that the shortage cannot be prevented, but the commission contends otherwise and requests the city official to see that the law is complied with.

PAY TRIBUTE TO LA FOLLETTE AT KAUKAUNA MEETING

C. B. EALLARD, MAYOR RAUGHT OF KAUKAUNA AND MAYOR HALL OF GREEN BAY ARE THE SPEAKERS

Seventy-five Kaukauna supporters of Robert M. La Follette were present at Eagle hall in that city Saturday evening to hear C. B. Ballard praise the senior senator from Wisconsin, whom he claimed had no equal in the country today. Mayor Charles J. Raught, who presided, also paid Mr. La Follette a glowing tribute.

In opening his address Mr. Ballard stated that he was going to speak to his hearers as a farmer who had made his home in the county for sixty years. He said that he had lived in Grand Chute all his life and that his father and mother had also lived there for many years.

The speaker stated that $8,000 additional millionaires were made during the war and that among them was not a single farmer. "Does the farmer have anything to say about fixing solely on them; they are often fixed before the crop is in the ground."

In mentioning sugar Mr. Ballard stated that the farmer received about $12 a ton for his beets. A ton of beets makes about 300 pounds of sugar which costs the retailer $51. "The difference," he said, "between the price the farmer gets for his beets and what the retailer has to pay for the sugar is $39, and the refineries get enough out of the by-products to pay the refining."

In touching on the high price of clothes the speaker said that it requires four pounds of wool to make a suit for which the farmer is paid fifty cents a pound, a total of two dollars, so that he is not the profiteer.

Mr. Ballard then read the La Follette platform and spent nearly an hour in discussing it. He also called attention to the criticism to which the senior senator was subjected during the war and the effect it had upon him. He claimed that La Follette might have been a millionaire had he not stood by the common people, but as it is he is a poor man. "His home at Madison," he said, "is in a run down condition, and I understand there is a mortgage upon it."

In closing the speaker referred briefly to the Dem trial and his connection with it. Mayor Hall of Green Bay, who arrived while Mr. Ballard was in the middle of his address was called upon and spoke briefly. He, too, paid the United States senator a tribute, claiming that he had been a supporter of him ever since 1900.

Many improvements are to be made in the Menasha market. A new plate glass window will be installed; new floor is to be built; new ice box and fixtures installed. A fresh meat cutting machine and a refrigerator is to be included in the equipment.

HOLD TEACHERS PAY: RAISE WAS ILLEGAL

Sheboygan.—The common council failed to extend immediate relief to the public school teachers whose pay checks have been held up for two weeks because City Attorney D. T. Phalan pronounced an increase in salary granted by the Board of Education as illegal, and the mentors will have to wait probably another week before they receive their February remuneration.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dallas, Tex.—"Swede" Risberg today was with the White Sox and will be used at short as soon as he is in condition. The regulars play Southwestern University at Georgetown today and then go to Austin. In yesterday's game with the local Texas league club, Cleotis and Williams were both touched up for several hits. The Sox won an uphill game 6 to 5.

Los Angeles—The Cubs were on their way to Hanford, Calif., today where they play the Seattle coast league club. Buck Herzog left for Chicago for an operation. It was doubted whether he would be able to play for a month. In yesterday's game with Los Angeles Grover Alexander was nipped for three runs in the five innings he worked, and the coast league won 3 to 0.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, and Wilbert Robinson, boss of the Brooklyn Robins, are engaged in a controversy that may cause the exhibition tour of the two clubs to be cancelled. Robinson claims that Huggins has been allowing his pitchers to tamper with the ball.

New Orleans—Art Fletcher, Giant infielder, draws the prize for being the first major league player to win a game this season. Fletcher kicked on one of Umpire Nathan's decisions in the ninth inning and was removed. The Giants beat the Red Sox 5 to 4 in ten innings.

Atlanta, Ga.—Rain put a stop to the Boston Braves-Detroit Tigers game yesterday. Everything was "set" for the contest when it began to pour.

New Orleans—The Indians laid off yesterday and rested. Trips Speaker is afraid of his men going stale. He believes the whole crew is in good physical trim and heavy labor is off for the rest of the training season.

After Whooping Cough—What?

This is No. 4 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Whooping cough is the "meanest" disease that childhood is heir to. While rarely fatal in itself, except to children under two years of age, still it hangs on so long—the coughing paroxysms are so violent, preventing proper sleep and digestion—that when the disease does disappear it leaves the child weakened and run down. In addition the violent coughing racks and strains the air passages and after recovery this irritation frequently remains.

During this period of convalescence the child should be most carefully watched until full strength is restored and the air passages regain their normal tone. A prominent authority even goes so far as to say—"There is more criminal neglect in connection with whooping cough than with any other disease."

While the disease is active, Vick's Vapo-Rub usually helps to lessen the violence of the coughing, but it is during convalescence that Vick's is most valuable.

Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to

TWO HEAVYWEIGHTS CLASH HERE IN THE NEXT MAT CONTEST

BRITISH CHAMPION AND MADISON MAN WILL HEADLINE WRESTLING PROGRAM HERE APRIL 9

Sam Clapham, British heavyweight, and Kid Hansen, Madison, will feature the next wrestling show at the armory. Promoter Elmer Johnson announced yesterday that he had matched the two men for a finish bout here April 9.

In Clapham the fans will see the "British Lion" who stuck with Joe Stecker two hours before losing the fall and match. Hansen holds the state championship.

It will be the first time that two big men will be seen in action together on the mat here this season. The British champ weighs in 195 pounds and Hansen tips the scales close to that figure.

Johnson left today for Beaver Dam where he will line up men for the other bouts on the card. He will return the latter part of the week. The seat sale for the Clapham-Hansen bout will open in a few days at the Miller and Zuehlke place.

MITCHELL AND JACKSON CLASH IN MILWAUKEE

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Milwaukee—The opportunity or misfortune of clashing with Bennie Leonard, is at stake in the meeting here tonight of two aspirants to the lightweight crown, Ritchie Mitchell and Willie Jackson will perform before a record crowd. Ritchie is the favorite at 5 to 4 as the fans figure a good left and fast footwork are just that much better than a dangerous right and a cunning fighting brain. Mitchell will weigh 124½ and Jackson 122. Mitchell has the advantage in height and reach but only by small margins.

Bobby Ward and Jack Whittaker furnish the semi-final.

ZION BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY AT OSHKOSH

The Knights of Columbus Regulars counted but 2,250 in the closing day drive of the state K. C. Bowling tournament at Milwaukee Sunday. The local Knights will not get into the money. The Jack Getters, Green Bay, won first place in the five man event with a 2,850 score.

ROTARY GOVERNOR IS SPEAKER AT MEETING

Harry B. Cradick of Minneapolis, governor of the fifteenth district Rotary, was the speaker at the Rotary meeting this noon at the Y. M. C. A. He gave an inspiring talk on the work of the clubs in the district, their accomplishments and possibilities.

Alfred Zimmerman, a Wausau Rotarian, was also present and urged a large attendance at the convention which is to be held there April 13 and 14. He stated that to date 460 reservations had been received and that as many as 550 were expected to attend from the northern district.

There is every indication that Appleton will be well represented at the convention. One Pullman coach has been reserved already to accommodate those who plan to attend.

For More Food (From the Hartford Courant.)

There was a brief report in this paper yesterday morning of the meeting of the fish and game commission at the state farm in Madison. It is a pity that there was not a large assembly there to learn details of the business these commissioners are conducting.

To begin with there is a farm of about 200 acres with ample buildings, well cultivated. This has all been paid for with the receipts from hunters' licenses. It has not cost the state a cent. People who scoff at hunting may see that the desire of a few for sport gives the state this layout. But the work of the farm is not merely to provide birds free for people to shoot at. Many are liberated and many are sold or given away to increase the supply of food.

The chief talk of the occasion concerned, however, a wider field for cultivation. It turned to raising fishes. Nature is magnificently lavish in arranging for the propagation of fish. The commission raises shad, trout and lobsters and is going to widen its production, as this time for the first in its history it has an appropriation, a small one but useful.

Commissioner Graham of Massachusetts has explained before, and he is very ready with his proof, that salmon and shad will survive in polluted water if they can go through to pure water higher up stream. He tells of the Willamette river in California, where right amid the discharges of mills and sewers hundreds of tons of fine salmon were taken in one season. Connecticut sent some shad over to the Pacific years ago. For fifteen years nobody was allowed to catch one. Now they are superabundant, selling for two cents apiece where, we who contributed the first ones, pay two dollars.

Salmon can be brought back to our streams, and shad be made plenty, if we will attend to the matter. Similarly lobsters can be made abundant. The commission is there to provide more food. That is its business. So far as sportsmen contribute money to this cause, nobody can object reasonably to their enjoyment, since it aids us all. The prospect is that fish food will be more and more abundant every year, and the commission will be responsible for this progressive step.

THE FIRST FOUNTAIN PEN

The Kansas City Star-A fountain pen made in 1860 is still in use in Paris. It was patented that same year by Jean Benoit Mallat, an engineer, and the firm that still carries on the business founded by him asserts that this was the first fountain pen ever made. Mallat was the inventor of the gold pen with the ruby point, perhaps the easiest writing and most durable nib ever put on the market, but it is necessarily expensive. In 1843 Mallat substituted iridium as a point for his pens. At the same time he provided a reservoir for the ink. This was the germ from which grew the idea of storing ink in the handle.

Mallat's fountain pen differs only slightly from our modern ones. It was selffilling, but the flow of ink was regulated by a little turn screw on the side. This, however, was soon given up, as it became clogged.

The Misses Annette Rank and Delia Meitzel of Fond du Lac, spent the week end here with the former's sister, Miss Clementine Rank.

WIND STORM PILES ICE HIGH ALONG SHORES OF LAKE

MANY COTTAGES ARE ENDANGERED BY HUGE ICE FLOES—TREES AND WALLS RIPPED OUT

Appleton and vicinity was barely touched by the tornado which swept over eight middle west and southern states yesterday. Little damage was caused in Appleton but several nearby places were hit harder.

The high wind which started shortly before noon broke up the ice in Lake Winnebago and piled it up in huge stacks along the shore near Waverly and also at Neenah. In places it was as high as the roofs of the summer cottages. At a point about two miles east of Waverly most of the shade trees along the shore were uprooted or broken off entirely. The force of the wind and waves hurled large cakes of ice over the top of the first piles approaching dangerously near to the cottages. The porches of one or two were partly torn away but no damage to the buildings proper was reported. Stone walls which lined the banks of the lake were gouged away and will have to be replaced.

Ice Broken Up
Not in years was the ice broken up so quickly. During the morning it appeared as frozen and solid as it had been all winter but by noon the lake was churning up huge billows. Owners of one or two ice boats which had been left on the ice suffered loss of their crafts.

The Douglas Dental Parlor's sign across the building above Schlitz and Thru store was torn loose and drawn to the street. A boy who was passing was struck on the head, but kept right on walking, so evidently was uninjured.

The ice in some places between Waverly and Lechryst is piled up fifteen feet high. The supports of the sleeping porch at the former Killan cottage have been broken off and ice is piled up to the stove cottage which is liable to crush at any moment. The large stones which acted as a breakwater in front of the Pardee cottage have been picked up and carried along with the ice and one which it would require two men to lift is now resting on top of a fence post.

Carry Away Piers
The lake is still partly frozen over but the ice has evidently broken away from the shore at the south end of the lake and the strong wind forced it upon the shore at the north end. The ridge was formed yesterday in less than half an hour and was first noticeable at ten o'clock in the morning. Trees and stones did not prove any obstacles, and were carried along. O. P. Schlafer and A. K.

2,000 lbs. Fresh Fish, still alive when received, at 7c per lb. Hopfensperger Bros.

Ellis took a quantity of dynamite along with them yesterday when they visited their cottages but did not find it necessary to make use of it. Ice is piled up 15 feet high along the east shore of the lake at Neenah. Streets along the lake shore are closed. Huge trees were uprooted and carried dozens of feet. Ice is piled up in fantastic shapes and is constantly sliding. The wind today is still churning the lake and it is feared considerable damage will be caused if still more ice is driven on top of the already huge piles.

Tube Through the Earth

Recently, at a meeting of some prominent men in England, the question of sinking a shaft into the earth to a depth of from 12 to 30 miles, as a possible new source of power was discussed. The cost of sinking such a shaft to 12 miles would be at least $20,000,000 and would take about 85 years to complete, this being about 10 times the depth of any shaft in existence.

The greatest problem to be reckoned with would be that of heat, it being definitely known that the temperature rises one degree to every 70 feet of descent. During the first two or three miles the waste matter could be hoisted to the surface by means of a cable, but beyond this depth cables of the best steel would break under their own weight.

Although engineers could doubtless tackle this tremendous task, the problems involved would be of quite a novel and difficult nature.

SHAWANO MAN IS AGAIN W. & N. SUPERINTENDENT

Following the resignation of Harry Peterson as superintendent of the Wisconsin and Northern railway, Albert N. Trathen of Shawano has again been named for this position. Mr. Trathen resigned the superintendency about a year ago to become general manager of the Iwen Box factory of Shawano. Mr. Peterson has accepted an offer with the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

LIVESTOCK MARKET IS PARALYZED BY STRIKE

Chicago—Movements of livestock to and from the Chicago stock yards were virtually paralyzed today as the result of a strike of 1,300 livestock handlers for higher wages.

A shut down of packing house killing plants will be forced on packers here within the next 36 hours, union men stated, unless some agreement is reached.

There were practically no sales of livestock today, due to the walkout. Trade was too erratic to quote prices on cattle and sheep.

Officials of the companies said the strike was unauthorized by the accredited union.

CATLIN TO SPEAK AT ANTIGO GAME TOMORROW

Mark Catlin of this city, president of the Wisconsin Game Protective Association, will be one of the speakers at the annual banquet and open program of the Antigo Gun and Game club April 6. W. E. Barber of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission will also be one of the speakers.

Plans for the event are well under way. Committees have been appointed and many arrangements completed. Two motion pictures of wild life will be shown as part of the program.

What is the most beautiful Record ever made by the Victor Co.?

WOOD WILL NOT SPEAK IN APPLETON THIS WEEK

Gen. Leonard Wood will not speak in Appleton Wednesday, according to announcement from the headquarters at Milwaukee. It was the hope of Fred Felix Wittenberg and other supporters for the general in the presidential race that he could be induced to stop here while en route from Menominee, Mich., to Chicago. This hope appears to be impossible now but the telegram announcing the decision states that an effort will be made to bring him here before election.

A regular meeting of the Butchers' Union will be held Thursday evening at Traces and Labor Council hall. Routine business will be transacted.

Diphtheria

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can ward off Diphtheria by using TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membrane—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house where you can get it quick when needed. 50c., 75c. and $1.00. adv.

EAST OPPOSES ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

New York is organizing to oppose and prevent the Lakes-to-the-Atlantic waterway. This opposition will not attack the project on its merits, because it cannot do this. It will seek to exert its influence upon congress and the government through indirect and political pressure. New York is against this undertaking for the simple reason that it is selfish. It is the great port of inlet and outlet on the Atlantic seaboard. By reason of its railroad communications, the trans-Atlantic commerce of the country must filter through that point. The central west and northwest must use this port the same as the Atlantic states.

As transportation facilities now stand the west is wholly dependent upon railroads to reach the Atlantic seaport. It is inland and cut off from ocean communication solely because the Great Lakes are not connected with the Atlantic. It is perfectly feasible from an engineering standpoint, and it is highly inviting from an economic standpoint, to improve and deepen the St. Lawrence river and thereby provide a waterway which will in effect make all of the parts on the Great Lakes ocean ports. If that waterway were constructed Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Duluth and all other cities on the lakes could ship direct to Europe by water. The commerce from all the central west and northwest destined to the old world and South America could reach this ocean transportation with a short railroad haul. The benefits to commerce and to industry in this immense territory would be almost beyond calculation. Moreover, the railroads would be relieved of burdens that are beyond their capacity to carry.

This change would, of course, divert much traffic from New York. It would to a considerable extent reduce the importance of New York as a port, although not so much as New Yorkers apprehend because the commerce of the country is increasing at such a rapid rate that all eastern ports will always have all the business they can handle efficiently and smoothly. Nevertheless, New York will fight this improvement. It will fight it because of sectional jealousy. It will oppose it because of its provincial and short-sighted belief that its local interests are more important than national interests as they would unquestionably be promoted by the lakes-to-the-Atlantic waterway. The east is a powerful factor in our governmental policies, but it is no more influential than the west if the west organizes and insists upon recognition of its interests as they relate to the welfare of the country as a whole. These facts make it imperative that the west and northwest organize strongly and thoroughly for this contest. Only by standing up and fighting militantly can we secure this waterway within the next decade, and if we are to have it we ought to secure it as soon as possible.

TIME TO CLEAN UP AT HAND

These are the days when as individuals and communities work should be begun to make "the home town" from an appearance standpoint a better place in which to live. The field is large enough to merit rather close attention.

If all would begin the clean up movement on the home premises much would be accomplished. Clean out the litter of winter. Clean up the yards of rubbish. Empty the cans.

Agitate against the unsightly bill board. It has little real reason for its existence as an advertising medium. Bill boards usually cover up dirt and litter and rubbish on vacant property. There are sanitary reasons, too, why it should be abandoned.

One should do what one can to assist in cleaning up and clearing up the waste places. The vacant lot is a sanitary menace to the community. So are low places. They are mosquito breeders. They should be filled.

Trim the trees. Use a little paint on the house, barn or fence. It works wonders in appearance and it increases by many fold the cost of the paint in value if you desire to sell. Rake the lawn at the first opportunity. New grass does better after such a tickling.

Clean streets, clean homes, clean yards, trimmed trees—all add to the impression a visitor gets of a town. Let us resolve that visitors to Appleton see it at its best this spring.

MR. FORD'S CAMPAIGN FUND

The Republican committee at Saginaw, Mich., has presented to Governor Sleeper of that state a resolution asking him to call a grand jury to investigate the campaign expenditures of Henry Ford, who was a candidate for senator against Truman H. Newberry, recently convicted of violating the election laws. The Newberry supporters have asserted that their committee was not alone in the excessive use of money in that election. They have charged that the Ford budget was of very healthy proportions.

The public, of course, has no information as to the amount of money Mr. Ford or his friends used to promote his candidacy. It was admitted at the time of the election and immediately afterward that the Newberry committee was spending money lavishly. That and the expense statements filed under the law were what led to the grand jury investigation and indictment of Mr. Newberry and his political friends.

If Henry Ford and his associates resorted to the use of money in excess of what they were legally privileged to, they are amenable to the law and should be prosecuted. We take it that at least a prima-facie showing would have to be made of conspiracy before a grand jury investigation could properly be called, but if it is made the subject should be gone into. The law is no respecter of persons and Mr. Ford must stand on the facts the same as his competitor. If the insinuations which have been raised against him are unjust he undoubtedly would welcome such an investigation.

THE LOWLY MOUND

I am mankind's first altar and his last;
I am his future as I am his past.
I am that Mount Olympus god-bestrewn
Whose dusts are worshipped neither night nor noon.
I am that Sinai whence the thunders rolled
And in my bosom Abraham's tribes I hold.
I am that Cheops wherein pharaohs lie,
Swaddled and spiced and fearful lest they die!
I am that symbol and that serpent Mound,
Remnant of some lost race which trod this ground.
I am that Calvary Hill and wear a cross,
Symbol of gain which some men call a loss.
I am Himalaya's ridge which splits the sky
And in whose vast embrace past peoples lie.
I am the Mounts Delectable, whose slope
Glimpses the distant vision men call Hope.
Though all the earth be levelled, I shall rise
As long as mankind lives and loves and dies.
No street nor path, no lane by land or sea,
No street nor path, no lane by land or sea.
I am that lowly mound of faith and fears,
Whose tender grass grows green because of tears.
I am the Eternal Kiddle asking "Why?"
To know my Answer you must live—and die!

500-ROOM HOUSE TO BE OWNED BY OCCUPANTS

Boston.—The housing situation here is acute according to real estate authorities and contractors, who hold out little hope of relief until the cost of building material is lowered and construction resumed.

The shortage of private dwellings and apartments is due to a great extent to the fact that during the war there was very little building. The end of the war found material so expensive that both individuals and contractors hesitated to build.

The chief demand at present is for apartments of from one to five rooms and houses of five rooms. An apartment consisting of living room, bedroom, bath and kitchenette which in 1914 rented for from $20 to $30, brought from $35 to $50 last year, and at present rents for between $40 and $50 a month.

Contracts have been let here for the erection of a 500-room apartment block, the apartments of which will be sold to the tenants.

The plans call for apartments from 1 to 6 rooms. In addition the building will have a community kitchen, recreation hall, dining room, music hall, roof garden and sleeping porches.

Tenants wishing to purchase an apartment may take possession and pay monthly installments in the same manner in which rent is paid. These installments will be applied to the purchase price and the tenant will be given a deed to his apartment when he completes his payments. The monthly "rent-installments" will be less than the average rent for an apartment.

I Shall Use Business Methods in the Management of My Home

"Chryst! I'm tired of thinking about sex in relation to the universe!" I exclaimed. "I'm tired of your own special romance, if you will kindly permit me to say so! I'm tired of Mexico! I'm tired of your ouija board and any phase of the subconscious mind! And I'm going to take my nice husband and go home! I'm going to open that bungalow tomorrow! And bake some biscuits for Bob's supper, too!"

"You've certainly picked out something exciting, my dear, for you must expect to get along without a maid! But I suppose you'd find an adventure in being efficient, wouldn't you?"

"Bob is a 100 per cent husband! Why shouldn't I try to be a 100 per cent wife?"

"You're going to give value received, I suppose?"

"I'm going to introduce honest business methods into the management of my home—if I can," I replied.

"Some job, dear girl!" Having retrieved Bob's cigarettes, Chryst went back to her favorite nook and novel. After she had gone, I tried to figure out what I meant when I said that I intended to be a 100 per cent wife.

I was very practical about it. Perhaps it was the vision of the fine biscuits I planned to bake which made me center my thoughts upon the service department of my little home.

At present there is a scarcity of housemaids. Those to be had demand exorbitant wages and too often give minimum service in exchange.

I couldn't borrow a maid from Mother Lormer. She had less help than she required to run the big house properly. And once more I was glad I had been brought up in a modest way in a "country college" town. I had learned to honor myself because I was a good housekeeper. I had learned, also, that housework does as much for a girl's looks as all the exercises practiced in beauty parlors.

So I went on with my plans to move into my own little home, feeling that I was one of the truly independent brides of the time. If I couldn't find a maid, I had the will and the skill "to do my own work." If Bob was happy—and he was sure to be—why, I should worry about my fingernails!

I decided that my little house should look quite different from some of the homes which lately have been turned to chaos by the shortage of domestic help. Sometimes these sadly disturbed domiciles are presided over by highly educated women. I have known college girls who could tell the difference between "hygiene" and "sanitation," but who had never discovered that order is the homemaker's first law.

A littered living room, a mussed dining room and a dirty kitchen make a poor background for a beautiful wife, but they make an excellent advertisement of the unfairness of some wives. Maid or no maid I decided to look to my back-garden.

Woman, ignorant or educated, as always, loved to dwell on "character" as her peculiar trope from all the ages, and yet she doesn't always prove that she has her share of this valuable inheritance. She doesn't always give value received in her domestic partnership. Many a wife would be irritated and disappointed if a husband were to fail on his job as a wage-earner, and yet that same wife often hasn't the will to acquire the skill of an average housemaid.

"It's going to be some adventure to beat the other girls making my home cozy and comfy," said myself to myself. "We could go out to a hotel for our meals, of course, but I might as well do my own cooking as at a table d'hôte and wait and wait while somebody else broils the steak. This very evening I'm going to bake some of those thin brown baking-powder biscuits Bob loves so much!"

I have made hundreds of resolves in my life, but never have I made one which gave me more pleasure than this.

77 INVESTIGATIONS STARTED

Washington.—Breaking all previous records, the present Congress has ordered or proposed 200 investigations covering almost as many subjects, according to compilations tonight.

These range from profiteering in men's collars to the most weighty international questions. How much these investigations cost has not been reckoned but it is estimated they will form a considerable part of congressional expenses which run about $25,000 a day.

This Congress is also breaking the previous record for bills and resolutions introduced, having 18,177 to its credit with only half of its time gone. The previous Congress, in its entire two years, piled up 23,811 in the house and senate hoplars.

Of 200 resolutions offered in both houses of this congress proposing investigations of various kinds, 77 have been agreed to. They cover activities of Henry Ford, alleged discrimination against individual hackmen in the District of Columbia, and the "question of office rooms for Senators." Scores of resolutions have been introduced and many adopted for investigation of almost every executive department and prominent administration official. Scarcely any local disturbance of consequence in any quarter of the country escapes having a resolution of investigation introduced. Forest fires in Minnesota, race riots in southern cities, the coal and steel strikes, all prompt resolutions.

The list of subjects covered by resolution offered in this Congress includes: substitutes for railroad cross-ties, the coal prices, socialist activities in the Federal Trade Commission, sugar profiteering, propaganda to influence railroad legislation, troops in Russia, peace treaty leak, Mexican affairs, activities of soviet agents in the U. S., merchant marine questions, garden, city and suburb improvement in Europe, transportation problems in the Southwest, supply of cars for agricultural products, suspension of a Washington school teacher, high cost of living, methods by which army officers secured "honorary" assignments during the war, income tax dodging, publicity bureaus of government departments, influenza, malaria, and conditions in the Virgin Islands.

Congress has conducted hearings on practically every question of national interest including the conduct of the war, shipping, railroads reorganization, the meat packing industry, food prices, and radical propaganda.

BELGIANS BUY MONEY

Brussels.—A slight on the chaotic condition of European exchanges is provided by the well-known international financial juggling going on in Belgium. Brussels being apparently the most favorably situated center for such operations.

Belgian bankers are buying English treasury notes in Holland, and paying for them in Belgian francs. Dutch florins, or French francs according to fluctuations. Germans are buying Dutch florins in Holland and paying for them in Belgian money, while Belgian bankers are buying German marks at less than two cents apiece, and holding with a view to selling when a rise takes place.

Other extraordinary transactions in Italian lire, Swiss francs, and any other money, paid for in anybody's currency but your own, are recorded, but amid all this juggling Belgian money is flowing out of the country, at an embarrassing rate, tending further to lower the value of the Belgian franc. American and British banks with branches in Brussels offer three times the interest on current accounts as compared with that given by Belgian banks.

Autobiography—13
Regular Meals

The reason some babies are so cross and cankerous is that they get their meals irregularly and irregularly disturbs the nice co-ordination of the entire digestive process. It is funny how some mothers serve meals at all hours, and then ply their babies with all sorts of drugs to help digestion and regulate the bowels.

Most people know that a certain periodicity or rhythmic regularity is a feature of all normal body functions. The pulse, the breathing, the alterations of body temperature, the brain activity, all important functions have this rhythmic regularity and if the regularity is appreciably disturbed anxiety is felt by the individual concerned. But how indifferent are many mothers in this functional regularity as it affects the welfare of the baby. They seem to think it is all right to nurse or feed baby whenever the idea occurs to them, in respect of what the clock may have to say about it.

From the hour of my birth I was put to the breast every four hours by the clock night and day. If I was drowsy or asleep they awoke me, even if a gentle spanking was necessary. On the third day the nursing interval was shortened to three hours, and from then onward I had my meals at two and a half hour intervals from 6 a. m. until 9 p. m. and once in the night. Mother either lay down beside me or held me in her arms as she sat in her chair, while I took my dinner. She had a way of softly humming sleepy little songs as I finished dinner, but I thank my lucky stars she never used my stomach for a churn.

It makes me dizzy and sick even now when I see a baby's mother rocking for all she is worth while the poor baby is trying to take and retain a little nourishment. Think of the effect on your stomach if some one were to put you in a big cradle or a shortarmed hammock and keep you rolling about while you tried to eat or sleep. Wouldn't it make you sick or mad or both?

When mother saw I was through dinner she kept her soft lullaby going and very quietly put me down on my bed. I had drift off into slumber and leave the meal to digest without disturbance. It worked fine, Gosh, I hardly knew what colic meant—but

You Could Not Mistake Him
Persons, who had been in the habit of traversing Covent Garden at that time might, by extending their walk a few yards into Russell street, have noticed a small, spare man, clothed in black, who went out every morning, and returned every afternoon as the hands of the clock moved toward certain hours. You could not mistake him. He was somewhat stiff in his manner and almost clerical in dress; which indicated much wear. He had a long, melancholy face, with keen, penetrating eyes; and he walked with a short, resolute step citywards. He looked no one in the face for more than a moment, yet contrived to see everything that went on. No one who ever studied the human feature could pass him by without recollecting his countenance; it was full of sensibility, and it came upon you like new thought, which you could not help dwelling upon afterward.

It gave rise to meditation and did you good. This small, half-clerical man was—Charles Lamb.—Barry Cornwall.

Infectious Rate of Travel
The rate of spread of infectious diseases is determined not only by the nature of the transportation facilities of the region or the era, but towns and villages, mainland and island, are invaded early or late or preserved entirely from attack according as they lie within or without the avenues of approach or are protected by inaccessibility, as in instances of remote mountain settlements and of islands distant from the ocean lanes or frozen in during winter periods.

Acetic acid is now made from cocoa nut shells in Ceylon.

Oil Fields Extend Out Into Ocean
One of the oil fields of the Pacific coast, lying within a few miles of Los Angeles, extends out into the Pacific Ocean, and a considerable number of oil wells are located at some distance from the shore. In England, the workings of the Cumberland coal field run two miles out under the sea. The ventilation of these mines is a nice engineering problem, but is successfully accomplished. At Workington, Eng., in the year 1837, before the science of surveying was as highly developed as at present, the sea gurst through and the workers were drowned. Many of the oldest mines in England, long ago worked out and abandoned, have filled with water in the lapse of time, and constitute an ever present danger to the miners in adjacent mines, who may be drowned at any moment.

Tardy Act of Justice
Marriage between English actresses and men of a high social position began in the eighteenth century, if not earlier. There was Lavinia Fenton, the Polly Peachum of Gay's "Beggar's Opera," who became duchess of Bolton; there was Miss Farren, who married Lord Derby; also Miss Brunton became Lady Craven not long before Lord Thurlow married Miss Bolton. Earliest of the list, though, comes the earl of Peterborough, who married Anastasia Robinson, the singer, and kept the marriage a secret until a few days before his death in St. James' palace, when he assembled his relatives and friends and publicly acknowledged the woman "to whom he owed the best and happiest hours of his life," a lady act of justice that caused the lady to swoon away.

In northern China vegetarianism is almost the rule, the food principally consisting of turnips, potatoes, corn, rice and millet.

WILL SHE BREAK HER CONTRACT OR REMAIN SINGLE?

JACQUELINE LOGAN

Just imagine this girl having a contract that forbids her to marry! Broadway already is laying bets, however, that the members of the new Florida sextet of the Shubert revival of the famous play, will break their contract. There are others just as pretty as Miss Logan. The line forms at the right. Only millionaires need apply. For every member of the original sextet 20 years ago, married a millionaire. And these Florida girls are just as pretty.

Sam Davis Wanted More Book Notes: When Sam Davis, author of the famous story, "The Flirt Piano in Camp," which the Harpers have just published in book form, was a newspaper man in San Francisco, he was sent to "cover" Sarah Bernhardt's first Pacific coast tour. The Divine Sarah was much enamored of Monsieur Davis' abilities as a raconteur, and found him so "fanny" that she invited him to his presence in her private car, and on the constant repetition of his stories of mining camps and the early gold days. When the time came for Madame Sarah to return to the east, Mr. Davis came down to see her off.

"Monsieur Davis," she cried, ecstatically, "here is on kees for you—an on kees for ze paper you represent!" The imperturbable Sam took both. Then he smiled. "And, Madame," he hazarded, "don't forget I represent eighteen smaller newspapers."

HOLY LAND SUBJECT OF SUNDAY SERMON

THE REV. S. G. RUEGG TELLS Y. M. C. A. AUDIENCE OF LAND MADE SACRED BY SAVIOUR

The message of Palm Sunday was brought by the Rev. S. G. Ruegg, Menasha, in his address at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. The program brought to a close the Sunday afternoon meetings for this season. The concluding meeting of the Bible Study class was held yesterday.

In his speech, the Rev. Mr. Ruegg, described the Holy Land and the places where Christ visited. Mr. Ruegg has himself visited this territory and his description brought out the beauty and strangeness of the place.

"A trip thru the Holy Land is symbolic. Everything is symbolic. Bethfegge is symbolic of the man-terial wealth, fegge meaning figs, and the wealth depends on the size of a man's fig properties."

The speaker told of Turkish and English domination of the Holy Lands and made a casual reference to England's handling of the affairs of governments in her power, saying: "I take exception to Father Dowling's remarks, who is touring this state, and opposing England. I believe England has done as well as any other nation in governing those nations under her jurisdiction."

Mr. Ruegg related the story of Jerusalem and stated that the city had been captured 36 times. He described briefly the last capture by General Allenby of the British army.

An excellent musical program by the Boys' Trio preceded the address. The trio is composed of Joseph Windingner, Jr., La Vahn Maesch, and Burton Manser.

Reports from the car repair shops at Kaukauna Saturday were to the effect that the man had jumped when he saw the collision was inevitable.

OBITUARY

MERREL W. THOMPSON

Merrel W. Thompson, 26 years old, veteran of the World war, died Saturday night at St. Elizabeth hospital following an operation. He had been ill about six weeks.

The funeral will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow morning from the late home, 842 Durkee street, with Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of First Congregational church, in charge. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Thompson, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Thompson, State street, was born March 26, 1894, and spent the greater part of his life in Appleton. He was married in 1917 to Miss Laura Nehls and shortly thereafter entered the service and was assigned to the regular army. He spent the greater portion of two years overseas with the Fourth Division. Shortly after his return from the service he became a line foreman for the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company.

The decedent is survived by his widow; parents; two sisters, Leila Thompson, Appleton, and Mrs. Dennis Long, Chicago; three brothers, Percy, Milwaukee; Harry, Los Angeles, Cal., and Lee, Appleton.

MRS. MARTHA NAGREEN

Mrs. Martha Adlin Nagreen, 53 years old, of the town of Maine died at the Theda Clark hospital, following an operation for gall stones. Besides her husband, Orlando Nagreen, she is survived by three sons and one daughter.

MRS. AUGUST KUNTZ

Mrs. August Kuntz died at her home at Antigo after a long illness, starting with an attack of influenza. Besides her husband she is survived by six children, her father, and five brothers and three sisters. One of the sisters is a resident of Appleton and the other two of Bear Creek.

CHARLES NIMITS

Charles, four months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nimits, Waukegan, Ill., died Sunday and the body is being brought here today for burial. Mrs. Nimits is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffman of this city. Definite arrangements for the funeral have not been made but it will take place sometime tomorrow.

UNCLE DIGS IN HIS POCKET

Informal war contracts involving more than a technical defect in signature, apparently contain many hard problems for the war department. There are about 1,800 claims of this sort. This figure, of course, is for principal claims, and does not include subcontracts; the four or five principal claims in the famous castor bean case, for example, interest something like 13,000 sub-contractors.

Out of the 1,800 claims, 166 have so far had favorable action from the war department, and 117 have been rejected. Officials hope that the progress they have been making with the necessary preliminary investigations will soon become apparent through increased numbers of decisions.

The informal contracts are not the only ones the war department has in its hands. To the end of September, it had liquidated 22,600 contracts that were canceled or suspended, paying to the contractors $309,000,000. Liquidation was then proceeding at a rate of approximately 180 contracts a week. About 5,700 contracts remained to be liquidated, and it was estimated that their settlement would involve payments amounting to $300,000,000.—The Nation's Business.

A Vegetable Poacher of Fishes

One of the most curious enemies of fresh-water fish in many parts of the world is a small floating water-weed, the bladder-wort. Along its branchlets are a number of small green vesicles or bladders, which being furnished with minute jaws, stick upon tiny fish, which are assimilated into its substance. This is a subtle poacher, the true character of which has only lately been detected. Bladder-wort is a fairly common aquatic plant, and no very special interest attached to it ere its fish-eating propensities were discovered. Its tiny vesicles were known to contain air, and the only use of these, so far as was known, was to keep the plant afloat—a belief, he it remarked, all the more reasonable because many aquatic plants actually have such air receptacles for that very purpose. The tiny bladders attached to the leaves and leaf stalks are each furnished with a door, the whole acting on the catch principle, entrance being easy, but exit impossible. Any water creature that ventures in to look around out of mere curiosity never by any chance emerges alive.

Why Strike Collapsed

Two telegraph operators worked in the office of the Milwaukee Free Press. Both were employed by the press association and not by the paper. They came soured on Sunday night, decided to strike, making demands for more pay and shorter hours from the managing editor of the newspaper. They were told to make their petition to their employers. The telegraphers retired for a council of war, but the strike into effect and decided to picket the office. The office had but one entrance, but there must be strategy; so one of the strikers posted himself directly in front of the office and the other around the corner, the two being out of sight of each other.

Then each had the same lunch of getting another drink. They left their posts and that was the end of the strike. Other operators were called in and the wires buzzed merrily on.—Pep.

Henry Reider of DePere, visited Appleton friends and relatives Sunday.

SCOUT COUNCIL TO BE FORMED HERE ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

MASSMEETING WILL BE HELD AT CITY HALL TO COMPLETE ORGANIZATION OF WORK

Organization of a Boy Scout council for Appleton will be completed at mass meeting called for eight o'clock Wednesday evening at the city hall.

A list of 25 or more names has been prepared by the nominating committee of which F. J. Rooney is chairman, to comprise a tentative council. These men represent the various churches, schools, religious and fraternal organizations. They will be voted upon at the mass meeting. Plans will also be formulated to raise funds to pay the expenses of establishing a scout council for the city.

As soon as the council is elected it will proceed to engage a scout executive who will open a headquarters office here and devote his entire time to the scout movement. The selection of scout masters and patrol leaders will be taken up and an effort made to organize as many troops as possible in different parts of the city.

Letters of invitation will be sent out to scout dads and others who attended the previous mass meeting or are interested in seeing Appleton have its work well organized. These will be conveyed by the scouts personally during the next day or two to aid in securing as large an attendance as possible at the mass meeting. An invitation is extended the general public to be present and assist in the movement.

Farm Lands Without Crops

About one-fifth of a billion acres of the cut-over land and woodland in the United States might be cleared up and the stumps removed so that the land would be available for productive farming. If all this agriculturally suitable forest and cut-over land could be made into farms averaging 160 acres, it would provide 1,250,000 farms, an increase of about 20 per cent over the present number.

NO AGREEMENT BETWEEN MASONS AND CONTRATORS

There was no change in the wage deadlock of the contractors and masons as a result of the conference of union officials and the Master Builders association held Saturday. The contractors still remain firm in their offer to pay $1 per hour commencing May 1. A meeting of the masons' union will probably be held today to discuss the matter further. There is little indication of changed sentiment on either side.

INVESTING FOR OUR FUTURE

"I have seen in the last three or four months propositions of loans abroad, which have filled me with shame," says William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, in the Nation's Business for December. "We can not take advantage of those in distress. We can not for our own profit's sake treat them other than as brothers. We must not take a big shade off the loan we make. We must look far along the line to the profit of the future, and not to the grasp and the gouge of the present. The profiteer has no place in this job. This is a case of helping brethren to their feet; and if we do that they, being brothers, will respond as brothers should. Let us look for a building up of good will for America."

"It may do something to please a narrow minded group of directors if out of some loans made at extortionate terms a considerable profit were had for one institution; but the credit of America and her ultimate wealth would suffer in the doing. I beg that your hearts resent and your hands reject and your minds refuse any suggestion that in the granting of credits to Europe in these days we do it save on a basis of brotherly kindness."

Molasses Sauce: Mix 1 cup molasses with 1½ tablespoons vinegar and 2 tablespoons fat. Blend, 2 tablespoons sifted flour with 1 tablespoon cold water and add to molasses mixture. Bring to boiling point and let boil 2 or 3 minutes.

Lonely Giants of the Forest: Mahogany trees do not grow in clusters, but are found scattered throughout forests and hidden in dense undergrowth.

HE PROPOSED 111 TIMES, SHE CLAIMS

Following the 111th proposal she discovered Lidz already had a wife. Lidz called Mrs. Lewis his "dolly-locker," she says.

Practical Use for Wedding Presents: All the money received by Queen Mary as silver wedding gifts will be devoted to the building of a maternity hospital which will be named in her honor.

LACK OF NEWS HAS EFFECT ON MARKET

TRADING IS QUIET AND FEATURELESS — PRICES WERE HIGHER AT START BUT SAGGED LATER

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Trading in grain futures on the Chicago board of trade today proved quiet and featureless due to lack of outside trading. A sense of information, caused by wires being down, caused many to hold off. Scattered buying at the opening lifted prices but the market met with selling on the bulge and quickly reacted.
March corn opened late at $1.61 1/2 up 1/4, and later gained 1/4. May corn up 1/4 at the opening of $1.56 1/4, gained a further 1/4 later. July corn opened up 1/4 at $1.50 1/2, remained unchanged. Sept. corn, opened up 1/4 at $1.46 1/2, later lost 1/4.
May oats opened unchanged at $6 1/2, and later lost 1/4. July oats opened up 1/4 at 79 1/2 and later lost 1/4. Provisions were lower.

PROPERTY LOSS WILL RUN INTO MILLIONS AS RESULT OF TORNADES

at guard was called out for police duty.

Looters Are Busy

Wrecked stores and homes offered rich booty for looters and they were quick to appear. The soldiers stopped the robbery and as darkness came all citizens were ordered off the streets. The guards were to remain indefinitely.

The tornado, cutting a ragged 200 foot path, bored through the modest residences of Melrose Park, cut past an insane asylum at Dunning, Ill., and leaped in full ferocity on Wilmette, one of the rich suburbs of Chicago.

Most of the dead were crushed by falling buildings.

In Chicago Margaret and Vincent Laufenberger, 16 and 2, were killed in their home. Falling rafters crushed Margaret and a dining table was dashed upon the little boy.

The infant daughter of Mrs. Peter Rosoczski was found in the street, three blocks from home, when the wind passed. Her mother had been holding her a few minutes previously.

Hits Millionaire Home

In Melrose Park Mr. and Mrs. Steibel, regained consciousness to hit by a cornice blown from a building.

Fire Sunday threatened the town of Kolia. Burning brands from a residence, showered surrounding buildings but volunteer fighters curbed the blaze after damage of $16,000 had been done.

The Masonic hall, and other buildings were razed by fire at Clark, Mo. The damage was estimated at $50,000.

A number of residences and small buildings at Washington, Mo., were burned at a loss of between $25,000 and $30,000.

Town Is Flattened

Geneva, Ind.—Six persons were dead here today and others were believed fatally injured, the toll of a tornado which swept Geneva and the surrounding territory last night.

Among those killed were two little boys, the sons of Harry Fields. Scores were wounded and buildings in the business section were laid flat on the ground as if a gigantic steam roller had passed over them.

Wire Lines Destroyed

St. Paul—Terrific wind blew up rain and finally sleet and snow in Minnesota yesterday—an offshoot of the central states' tornadoes. More than $200,000 damage to wire company property was the chief damage. The extreme southwestern section of the state suffered most from wind. No casualties had been reported today.

find themselves in their own basement with the adjoining house above them, resting somewhat askew upon the foundation.

The storm had a spectacular career in Wilmette, suburban home of scores of Chicago's millionaires.

It cut a path 200 feet wide directly through the heart of the fashionable suburb. The only things it left untouched were a glass conservatory, two churches and the offices of the local weekly newspaper.

Churches are Wrecked
In Elgin the attack came just at the close of church services. In the First Congregational church Rev. J. W. Welch concluded his sermon with the warning to "be prepared for you know not what you will be called." Heavy rains came almost with the words and hundreds remained until the showers had passed.

Then came the tornado. A loud buzzing like that of a superdynamo was first noticed. It was drowned in the crash of falling buildings as some of the largest stores in the business district collapsed before the lashing tornado.

The church steeple collapsed and portions of the roof fell in on the waiting church people. Three were killed. One woman was killed in a similar collapse of the Baptist church.

Cut 200 Foot Swath
The path of the storm through Elgin was over 200 feet wide. A theatre, a four story and a six story department store, the two churches and residences were caught up, crushed and dashed into masses of debris. Seven were killed during the fury of the storm which lasted but a few minutes.

Over $400,000 worth of flour was scattered when a mill in Millrose Park was destroyed. The flour lay inches deep in some parts of the street.

In almost every damaged building the menace of fire followed. Torn gas connections and burning gas stoves in the wreckage contributed that danger.

25 Dead in Ohio

Cleveland—Between 15 and 25 dead and 200 injured was the estimate placed early today on the toll exacted by a terrific storm which swept the western edge of Ohio yesterday afternoon and late into the night. Several small villages were reported in ruins.

Relief parties were today working in the ruins of Greenville and Union City, near Dayton, and others were engaged in hunting the debris of Nashville for dead and injured. This village was reported practically leveled. The tornado cut a swath about a half mile wide and six miles long. It turned north and swept Swanton, Raab's Corner, Richfield and Geneva, near Toledo. These villages suffered heavily. The storm spent itself in Michigan.

Nashville suffered five to ten dead and 30 injured, according to meager reports. Greenville's casualties were two dead and a dozen hurt. Union City, another village in this territory, was also reported damaged with several dead and injured.

In the Toledo territory the casualty list was expected to show five dead and 75 injured. Wire service was demoralized in the storm swept areas and communication was almost impossible.

Cleveland escaped with a heavy wind and rainstorm, which did little damage. Two persons were killed by automobiles while pushing across the street, heads down to the wind.

Five Causes Big Loss

St. Louis—One man was killed and several persons were injured in St. Louis during a 60 mile wide which Sunday until midnight swept this city, the state of Missouri, southern Illinois and parts of Arkansas. Several Missouri towns were taken by fire. Damage here ran into thousands of dollars.

Lambert Hastings, 27, Oklahoma City, was killed in St. Louis when

Facts About the Bible

Philadelphia Press: Many more people read the Bible than any other book in the world. But of all books, people know the least about the Bible's origin. That is why there should be great popular interest in such a work as that of Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, vice-provost of the University of Pennsylvania. He calls it "a book about the English Bible," but Dr. Penniman does not stop with a story of the English translations. He starts at the beginning.

Barring the chapter of Genesis relating to the Creation of the world, the Old Testament covers a period of 1,700 years. From where the Old Testament story stopped and the New Testament story began is a lapse of several hundred years.

Dr. Penniman says that contrary to popular belief the oldest known manuscripts from which the Bible was made are in the Greek language. The Old Testament was originally written in Hebrew, but the Hebrew is lost and only Greek translations remain. Of course, there are very old retractions from the Greek back into Hebrew. The New Testament, of course was written in Greek. The oldest so-called "original" manuscripts of the Old Testament are in Pictograph, Rome and Paris and London.

There is a venerable tradition to the effect that when the first translation of the Old Testament was made from the Hebrew into the Greek language at Alexandria 72 scholars were selected for the job. Each scholar was put in a cell by himself and translated the entire work. When finished and compared the 72 Bibles were identical.

The earliest mention of coal in the territory now comprised in the United States is recorded in the journal of Father Hennepin, who in 1679 refers to the site of a "cole" mine on Illinois River, near the present city of Ottawa.

HER PRAYERS WON A FIANCÉ FOR HER

It has been more than a case of love at first sight for Miss Karin Tjader, who lives on Millionaire's Row opposite Central Park, in New York City. As she saw for the first time her future suitor in the pulpit of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church she felt that her prayers for an opportunity to be of Christian service to the world were to be answered. Later she met Capt. "Gypsy" Smith, the famous Scottish soldier-evangelist. As they became better acquainted she was sure that this was her chance. When the captain, who was wounded while fighting with the Tynside Scots in the Battle of Somme, returned to Scotland in August, Miss Tjader was at the pier to wish him bon voyage. On her finger she wore a big solitary diamond.

Miss Tjader does not look upon the affair as a romance. "For years I have prayed the Lord to open a way in which I might be useful in His work. My prayer is being answered," she said simply. "I have been brought up in a Christian home, and it seems to me the most natural thing in the world for me to marry an evangelist. It seems like an answer to my prayer, though I have no idea what my special service will be."

During part of the year Miss Tjader and her mother live in their home on Fifth Avenue; the remainder at Wilkesburg, their country home, where Miss Tjader may be seen almost any day enjoying a game of tennis, a swim, a sail around the sound or a spin in her powerful car. But her chief interest is in religion.

She says she has attended dancing parties, but cares for them no more. She cares little for the theater. Her chief recreation is in outdoor sports and her real joy of life comes from her religion.

"Anyone who thinks a religious life is dull and tedious simply does not know," she said. "If one is really going to live, one has to pick one's self up from the whirl and follow a straight track."—Kansas City Times.

The City Beautiful department of the Appleton Woman's club met at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Vocational school. Mrs. A. A. Theurer is chairman.

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA

Czecho-Slovakia is a long band of plateau and mountain country lying in the very heart of central Europe. It divides laterally into three fairly distinct geographical regions: Bohemia, Moravia and Austrian Silesia and the Tatra region of the Carpathians. As its name implies, the race inhabiting this country is divided into two branches, the Czechs and the Slovaks. The Slovaks settled in the Carpathian mountain region to the east, with the Czechs inhabiting the other provinces to the west. The Czechs are much the more numerous branch, amounting to nearly 2,000,000, while the Slovaks number only 2,000,000. The combined race thus amounting to about 9,000,000 souls. The total area of Czecho-Slovakia is some 50,000 square miles, or a little larger than New York state. The Czechs are not merely larger of the branch of the race; they are also the more progressive. Their country is rich and fertile. The Slovak country is

UNIONISM, PAST AND FUTURE

American Review of Reviews: American unionism has been showing a tendency to follow the blighting mistakes of British unionism in obstructing the free advancement of the individual. Now that unionism has challenged the country, the time has come for the country in turn to speak its mind about some of the practices of unionism. First, then, the unions are no longer the sole guardians or champions of the well-being of workmen and their families. American workmen have all the attributes and powers of free citizens; their children form a majority of our splendid schools; the whole policy of the community is now fixed as regards democratic progress and social welfare. No joy who wishes to advance himself in life should be hampered by union rules limiting the number of apprentices or by rules that would prevent his earning extra wages by reason of his efficiency and skill. Many valuable forms of associated

Waste In Mining Coal

Indianapolis News: The report of W. N. Logan geologist for the state conservation commission is timely because it takes up the waste of coal in mining operations at a time when the people are being urged to conserve coal to the utmost. Mr. Logan says the waste in mining has been reduced to 50 per cent in some states, but not in Indiana. Therefore more than half the available coal is wasted. He shows in a technical way how the loss in Indiana mines comes about and recommends changes. Apparently the theory of coal mining in Indiana has been to develop the deposits easy of access and move on to other deposits when the coal began to run low. Much coal is also wasted in smoke after it is effort have served their principal purpose by the time they have reached what they themselves have thought to be their permanent entrenchment in power. Old-line unionism sought to bring up the level of the toiling masses. It was mistaken in many of its methods, as is best illustrated in the history of the violent attacks of English trade-unionism against the introduction of labor-saving machinery. Machines that take the place of hand labor often create inconvenient displacements; but machinery emancipates men, and in the long run it brings high wages, short hours, and social progress.

ARTILLERY UNITS GO TO CAMP TAYLOR

WISCONSIN NATIONAL GUARD COMPANIES WILL BE SENT TO KENTUCKY CAMP FOR TRAINING

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Sometime in July, August or early in September, troops from Milwaukee, Racine, Green Bay, Antigo, Superior, La Crosse, Grand Rapids, Merrill, Hartford, and any other cities where artillery units are formed in the Wisconsin National Guard, will go to Camp Taylor, Ky., the largest artillery camp in the country, for two weeks training. It is not known as yet whether both the heavy and light artillery will go at the same time, but General Holway is of the opinion that they will.
Motorized guns for the heavy artillery and horses and guns for the light artillery will be found waiting for the Badger troops on their arrival at the Louisville reservation, which consists of 2,446 acres. General Holway states that part of the practice there will consist of shell firing and by the time the organizations entrain for the home station they will have had much more actual practice in that line than did many of the Wisconsin batteries when they took the transports for overseas service.
To enable as many Wisconsin batteries as possible to have the benefit of this trip, an intensive recruiting campaign will be carried out in the artillery branch, for all units must be Federally recognized sixty days prior to the camp.
Inasmuch as Camp Taylor is close enough to Louisville to have street car connections the idea of going there appeals to the artillerymen, as they figure it will be a two weeks outing as well as two weeks of instruction.

Voglesang, president of the Turtle Lake Lumber company, who asked what he was doing. A report of the incident has been sent to Washington.

‘SPENT A LOT OF MONEY,’ HE SAYS

St. Paul Railroad Man Got No Relief Until He Took Tanlac
“I have spent a lot of money trying to get rid of my troubles, but nothing ever did me any good until I started taking Tanlac,” said Otto Selbitschka, 553 Edmond street, St. Paul, Minn., who is employed in the Great Northern Railroad shops.
“For three years,” Mr. Selbitschka continued, “I suffered from stomach trouble, my appetite was so poor I could not eat any breakfast at all, only drinking a small cup of coffee, and I often became so nauseated I could not even retain that, and at any other meals I hardly ate enough to keep me alive. The little I did manage to force down would puff me up until I would be in misery for hours afterward. I also had dreadful sick headaches and at times I would get so dizzy I could barely keep from falling. My right shoulder, I could not raise my hand above my head. I could sleep hardly at all and in the morning I felt so tired and worn out I could hardly get out of bed and just had to force myself off to work.
“I certainly wish I had started taking Tanlac sooner, for I began to get better on the very first few doses. First the nauseated feeling left me and my appetite began to return and I was troubled less with gas. I continued to improve until now I am completely over all my troubles. I eat anything I want without feeling the slightest bad after effects. My headaches have stopped and I never get dizzy any more. The pains and stiffness have left my shoulder. I sleep well and always get up in the morning feeling simply splendid. In fact, I feel just fine all the time and I owe it all to Tanlac.”
Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt and by leading druggists in every town.

WANT WISCONSIN TO BACK M. LENROOT'S WHITE HOUSE HOPES

THERE IS LITTLE POSSIBILITY HOWEVER, THAT SENATOR WILL CAPTURE OWN STATE

Milwaukee.—Appeals for Wisconsin people to step to the fore in a movement to make Senator L. Lenroot the Republican presidential nominee have been received here from the New York Lenroot club, an organization dating from a meeting Mar. 15 at Jamestown, N. Y. The organization is headed by Mayor Samuel A. Carlsson of Jamestown, Ernest Cawcroft, A. Roosevelt, New York leader, and Frank G. Curtis. The day following the meeting, the club inaugurated a circularizing campaign in behalf of Senator Lenroot.

To Capture Delegation
“It was reported that Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin is not a candidate, but his friends will present his name at the Chicago convention,” says a dispatch, which describes the meeting.

It is said his friends, including Gov. Philipp, will capture Wisconsin solidly for delegates to the national convention.
This dispatch is based, of course, on an eastern view of the situation. Wisconsin politicians analyze a Lenroot delegation as only a theoretical possibility, depending upon whether the La Follette or the uninstructed delegation wins. Should the entire La Follette delegation be elected, Lenroot will have no votes from Wisconsin. If Senator La Follette holds his men as closely in hand as he usually does. One of the immediate objects of the La Follette reorganization in the state is the retirement of Lenroot from the senate, and it is not intended to retire him into the White house.

Philipp is Ambitious
“With the uninstructed delegation Lenroot would have a better chance. Fully half the delegation is personally friendly to him, and the others would certainly be open minded. The delegation will be headed by Gov. Philipp and State Chairman G. A. West. Mr. West is classed as a Lenroot man. Gov. Philipp has been a benevolent toward Mr. Lenroot, but he has political projects of his own to look after. One ambition credited to the governor is a desire to occupy in the United States senate the seat now held by Senator Lenroot.

Two Booms Harmonize
The Lenroot presidential boom and Philipp senatorial harmonize, because if Mr. Lenroot were nominated and became candidate for president, he could not go on the ticket for senator next fall, and the way would be open for Gov. Philipp to realize his ambition. There is no doubt, however, that the retirement of Mr. Lenroot for any reason would raise fresh complications.

Under these circumstances Gov. Philipp would confront James Thompson, the La Follette candidate, in a battle for the nomination. Ex-Gov. F. E. McGovern whose following has been showing signs of reviving activity in connection with the Leonard Wood presidential campaign, would also probably re-enter the arena.

His Chances Not Bright
The general survey of the field in Wisconsin does not offer much promise that Lenroot will be strongly backed by delegates from this state. All four of the uninstructed delegates-at-large, Gov. Philipp, Mr. West, Otto Posselt and W. H. Hutton, if elected would be friendly to Mr. Lenroot, but some prophets give La Follette two delegates-at-large, while others look for a renomination of four years ago, when Gov. Philipp was the only La Follette opponent who pulled through. The two first district uninstructed delegates, John M. Whitehead and Henry Lockner, whose chances of election are regarded as good, are friendly to Lenroot. So are M. B. Barton, Rhineland.

STATE TAX BOARD DEFINES RULINGS

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES MUST PAY TAXES ON THEIR INCOMES—DEFINE STOCK DIVIDEND TAX

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The Wisconsin Tax Commission has issued a statement defining its rulings on three new questions which have arisen as the result of recent opinions of the attorney generals of New York and Missouri and the decision of the United States Supreme court on the taxability of stock dividends and exemptions to non-residents.

Regarding the claim for exemption of compensation paid to railroad employees during the period of federal control the Commission rules:

“In this situation we believe there is no occasion for changing the established practice, and assessors of incomes are therefore advised that all compensation paid to railroad officers and employees during the period of federal control is taxable income, and should be taxed in the same manner and to the same extent as if such roads were operated by their private owners.”

Section 1087m-5 of the income tax law prescribes certain personal exemptions in computing the income of individual tax payers, but subdivision (c) expressly provides that “the aforesaid exemption shall not apply to incomes derived from sources within the state by non-residents thereof.” The effect of these provisions is to grant personal exemptions to residents of Wisconsin, and deny them to residents of other states. The United States Supreme court recently held that a similar provision of the New York income tax act violates the 14th Amendment, and L. K. Baker, Ashland, the uninstructed delegates from the Eleventh district, formerly represented by Lenroot, for whom a strong fight is being made. The same is true of L. A. Baker, New Richmond, and L. R. Roe, Stanley, in the Tenth. These are the districts in which the uninstructed delegates are regarded as having the most favorable opportunity.
It is known that his colleagues in the United States senate do not view Mr. Lenroot with any seriousness as a presidential candidate.

section 2 of article IV of the United States Constitution, providing that: “The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states.” The Commission has decided that “it is more than probable that the recent explicit opinion of the United States Supreme court, in the New York case would be followed by the supreme court of this state, should the question come before it. It is therefore recommended that in computing the taxable income of non-resident individuals they be allowed the same exemptions as if they were residents of the state.”

The decision of the United States Supreme court in the case of Eisner vs. Macomber on the question of the taxability of stock dividends rests upon different grounds. This case merely holds that stock dividends are not income within the meaning of the sixteenth amendment authorizing congress to pass income tax laws without apportionment according to population. The implication is that if such dividends are taxable at all, it only can be by direct tax apportioned among the states according to population as required by sections 2 and 9 of article I of the constitution. But this article is a limitation on the power of congress and has no direct application to the states, and therefore the decision is not binding in the application of the Wisconsin law. The Commission holds that taxation of stock dividends under our law is “confined to such dividends received by Wisconsin stockholders from corporations whose income is in whole or in part derived from sources without the state. In other words, stock dividends are taxable under our law only when and to the extent that they represent profits accrued since 1911, which have not been taxed to the corporations distributing them.”

EMPLOYEES ORGANIZE FOR COOPERATIVE PURCHASING

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Lynn, Mass.—The employees of the General Electric Co. in this city have formed an organization of their own for cooperative buying, and expect in this way to reduce by a considerable percentage the high cost of almost everything.

Foodstuffs will be taken up first and then the next step will be clothing. After this it is likely that the association will go into other fields, and it will probably add in the building of homes. About 4000 employees have joined the cooperative body so far, but it is expected that all of the 15,000 General Electric workers in Lynn will become members, and that similar movements will be inaugurated in other cities.

The $16 membership fee or share is returnable whenever a member severs his connection with the Lynn works. An effort will be made in every instance to "buy at the source" and eliminate the profits of the middleman.

HINKEL IS SIZING UP BOSTON RED SOX

CLEVELAND'S MILLIONAIRE SPORTSMAN MAY PURCHASE TEAM AND SETTLE DOWN IN BOSTON

(By Fred Turbyville)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Hot Springs, Ark.—Matt Hinkel, famous sportsman of Cleveland, is here looking over the Boston Red Sox. Hinkel is a fellow who believes in being acquainted with every element of a deal at hand, and a deal is certainly near in the case of the Boston Red Sox. Matt Hinkel is very much in the market.

He said he came here to enjoy himself in this famous winter resort, but he couldn't disguise his feelings entirely. He's been out at Whittington Park every time the Red Sox worked out and he is getting acquainted with the players and what they can do.

On the night of his arrival Harry Frazee wired Ed Barrow to deny to all newspapermen that the club was for sale. But that's salesmanship, and Hinkel is a salesman himself.

The price of the Boston Red Sox is $1,250,000.

Frazee told Hinkel in Chicago the price was $1,750,000.

Hinkel is willing to pay a million, perhaps. He has most of the money himself and can easily raise the rest.

It is known that Ban Johnson favors the Cleveland man.

And if Hinkel becomes owner and president, too—and he'll certainly get in with both feet if he gets in at all—it is likely he'll try to induce Bill Carrigan to once more take up the managerial reins. Hinkel is strong for him. Falling in that he might choose between Stuffy McInnis and Hooper, at present members of the club.

Ed Barrow wouldn't continue under Hinkel's ownership.

Hinkel no doubt would attempt to secure better playing talent for Boston. That would be an inducement to Carrigan, who now is prospering in business at Lewiston, Me.

No doubt a change in ownership would be welcomed in Boston, and I believe the players would like to have a new employer, too.

The players hated to see Babe Ruth go, but they felt pretty sore about the matter when Frazee failed to get any stars from New York in return. They like Hinkel because he has taken such a personal interest in each man in the squad. No doubt he'd be a hit in that respect.

Hinkel is nearly a millionaire. He made big money in the liquor business and made lots more in the automobile business in Cleveland. He would turn his auto interests over to his son and move to Boston if he bought the club.

Baseball fans do not know Hinkel so well, but every fight fan in the country knows who he is.

CO-OP STORES ARE GETTING PAST THE EXPERIMENT STAGE

ST. LOUIS LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS' STORE PROVES SUCCESS AND PROFIT POSSIBLE IN VENTURE

(By Mabel Abbott)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

St. Louis, Mo.—Is the cooperative store a success?

The cooperative store ought to be this time to be able to give some account of itself.

Many such stores have been started within the last year or two by groups who, revolting against the constantly rising prices of necessities, have decided that the only way to avoid being fleeced by profiteers was to own the stores.

How does the plan work? Last winter the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers announced that they proposed to establish a number of cooperative stores. One of the first was Progressive Mutual Mercantile Co. of St. Louis, opened Feb. 6, in a little one-story, two-room brick box far out from the business district.

Here is its answer, given by C. E. Lindquist, chairman of the engineers' local of St. Louis Terminal, who is vice president of the company:

"With 207 shareholders, owning $50,000 worth of stock at $25 a share, we made approximately $1500 the first month; and on April 1, seven weeks after opening, we expect to declare a satisfactory dividend, though we don't know yet just how much."

The engineers hired a manager. The Progressive Mutual sells food at about the average high prices of today. Fresh eggs were 55 cents the day I inquired. The competitor in the next block was selling them for 52 cents. Canned tomatoes that the other store was selling for 15 cents was going fast at the Progressive Mutual at two for a quarter.

The store was crowded, and it was by no means a crowd of stockholders only.

When the inventories are taken four times a year, and small dividends have been declared on the stock, then the surplus will be rebated to the stockholders who are also customers, in proportion to the amount of their purchases at the store.

"So the biggest dinner we eat, the more money we'll make," explained a stockholder's wife, as she filled a basket.

It is planned to open two more stores in different parts of St. Louis, and to enter the wholesale field before long.

This is the experience of one co-operative store. But some others have different stories to tell.

"There are over 2000 retail and seven wholesale cooperative stores, scattered over the United States," says Duncan McDonald, former president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, who has been active in the co-operative movement for two years.

Some of them are doing well, some not so well, and a lot of them are in a bad fix.

"It depends partly on the support they get from their membership, and largely on the ability of the men who

SPAIN NOT WORRIED OVER REVOLUTIONS ON LABOR TROUBLES

SHE HAS HER "VICIOUS CIRCLE" BUT VENTURES OF BIG BUSINESS PROVE CONFIDENCE IN THE MASSES

(By Milton Bronner)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

London—Big business men of Spain are backing their faith in the future stability of Spain by spending their money on big projects in their country.

England, it is stated, is apt to have nationalization of mines and railroads long before Spain overthrows the monarchy and sets up a republic.

This is the gist of what a British government official and business man told me after a month's trip through Spain.

"Reports of strikes and rumors of revolution in Spain have been numerous."

"But," said this official, "far from closing its eyes to strikes, the government seems to have a very summary way with them. In fact, it has a way which would not be attempted in Anglo-Saxon countries."

"The military promptly clap the leaders of the strike in jail and it naturally dies down after that."

"The only trouble I saw in Madrid was a lockout by the employers against the employees in the building trades."

"It lasted in Spain for weeks and weeks before it was finally settled."

"I asked the Spaniards what would happen if there were a big national strike of railwaymen. The response was that most of the railroaders were of military age; that they would be promptly called back to the colors; that they would be enrolled in regiments of railway engineers and put back to work on the railways not as employees of the roads but as soldiers of the nation. Whether such a drastic program would be carried out I do not know, but it was discussed quite freely."

"Business men told me there was not as much unrest in Spain as there was in England, France and America."

"Spain is suffering from the same malady all civilized countries are suffering from—high cost of living and consequent insistent demand made by the working class for much higher wages. The same vicious circle is being gone through with in Spain."

He said he found business men in Madrid, Spanish, English and French, preparing to invest their money in very large Spanish projects which was the best sign that no serious trouble was looked for.

"In Spain," said he, "business men have a cynical saying that the revolution is always going to happen tomorrow but that tomorrow never comes."

"Of course, there is dissatisfaction in the industrial cities, but 80 per cent of the people of Spain do not live in the cities but are peasant farmers, loyal to church and king and for the most part indifferent to politics."

What It Costs to Be Artistic

It isn't wealthy men who are idle, but wealth itself, which is permanently loafing. Every year hundreds of millions of cash go into retirement for all time. One battleship lays on the shelf $15,000,000 of good money and it stays there. Germany's extra army measures for a year put $250,000 out of business, for good. New York city's debt is increasing at the rate of $65,000,000 a year. Nearly all of that money is expended upon non-productive work. Monuments, boulevards and works of art, such as $500,000 in pictures, each year cost the world about as much as the world digs gold out of the earth. These are idlers who never earn any direct interest on the investment. America's wheat crop for one year isn't big enough to compensate for the wealth that will be poured into nonproductive works. —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

manage them. We have lost a lot of cooperative stores because they were started by people who didn't know what they were doing.

"We shall make mistakes sometimes, and we will have to pay for our experience. But the cooperative movement is here to stay."

POOR MAIL SERVICE IS BLAMED TO ROADS

CAR SHORTAGE AND BROKEN EFFICIENCY WILL KEEP OUT PRE-WAR SPEED FOR YEAR, IS BELIEF

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington—You'll be cursing the mail service for another year, at least.

It won't be back to pre-war speed and efficiency until then, in spite of all that the men in the postal service are doing to improve it.

Car shortage is the main reason. Also lack of depot facilities at big connection points. And scarcity of porters for handling mailbags. And breakdown of efficiency standards in motive force, cars and rails.

The prediction of delay and its causes came from officials in the railway mail service here.

Return of railroads to private ownership and better weather are expected to give some relief now. But not much.

Since the first of the year the Overland Mail—crack mail train from New York, with through connections at Chicago for San Francisco—has been late an average of more than five hours every day. It rarely has made the Chicago connection.

The Fast Mail, next in importance, has been more than four hours late every day; the Twentieth Century Limited about an hour and the Lake Shore Limited three hours.

The train leaving New York at 2:15 a. m., due in Cleveland at 5:40 p. m. and Chicago at 1:15 a. m., has averaged four to five hours late daily. All winter it never once made its St. Louis connection at Cleveland. It rarely made its western connection at Chicago.

Reports show that cars, formerly sent to the shops for overhauling every two years, haven't been in the shops for from four to six years. Railroads are buying cars now, but delivery is slow. Shortage of equipment is making it necessary to use refrigerator cars for mail. Freight cars are used for parcel post mail in special trains that cannot run as fast as mail car trains without risking disaster.

Not a single passenger station in the country, reports say, has adequate facilities for handling mail. Chicago is worst, Cleveland next.

Express and freight embargoes, almost constantly in existence, put an extra load on the mail service. What used to be sent by express and freight, in many cases, now goes by parcel post—everything from millinery to automobile castings.

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

Avoid Its Dangerous Stage.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hawking and spitting and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, jollies and other local applications.

S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source, and tends to remove the germs of the disease from the blood. ## INTENSE NEED OF NEAR EAST HEADED BY EX-WAR WORKERS

YOUNG WOMEN WHO SERVED DURING WAR GO BACK TO WORK OF LOVING SERVICE TO AFFLICTED

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York—"It seems so futile to be back here doing nothing when there is so much to be done in the world, especially in Armenia. That's why I'm going back."

Mrs. Byrtene C. Anderson of Jacksonville, Fla., expressed in these words her own feelings and those of the entire party of more than 30 workers, with whom she sailed for Constantinople the other day. This party was sent out by the Near East Relief, the former Committee on Armenian and Syrian Relief, to continue relief work among the Armenian, Syrian and Greek victims of the Turks.

The party included doctors, nurses, transportation and other experts, and welfare workers who will reinforce the large number of Near East workers who have been busy for months fighting starvation, cold and disease which followed the Turk massacres and deportations of Armenians, Greeks and Syrians.

Mrs. Anderson, daughter of a Jacksonville banker, served with the American Red Cross in France for many months. Later she joined the Palestine unit, going to Armenia, where for eight months she was stationed at Aintab. Here she was in sole charge of the one American hospital, her staff being a native doctor and several Armenian girl nurses.

"There is still intense need of us over there," says Mrs. Anderson. "American benevolence must not stop or thousands more will die."

Miss Esther Louise Marks, daughter of a retired clergyman at Suffern, N. Y., is another member of the party. Miss Marks served for more than a year as a Y. M. C. A. worker, first in a canteen at Allevard, France, and later with the Third Division in charge of the canteen at Andernach, Germany.

"I cannot stand a life of leisure, after the genuine pleasure I have known in my war service," says Miss Marks. "I want to keep on making other people happy as long as I can."

Miss L. Medora Gervais, of Great Falls, Mont., who sailed with the Near East Relief workers, won the title of "champion dancer of the A. E. F." during the war. She went to France for the Y. M. C. A. in a business unit, part of the educational commission.

Her knowledge of French soon resulted in her being detached and sent nearer the front to act as hostess at receptions of allied officers.

It was very necessary for the success of the joint cause, Miss Gervais explains, "to have cordiality between our officers and men and those of our

SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE FINE BUT IT CAN'T BE DONE

HIGH SCHOOL AUTHORITIES LIKE LEAGUE PLAN BUT DIFF. CULTIES ARE TOO GREAT

It would be a nice thing—but can it be done? Bubbles, Fond du Lac scribe, author of the plan, says it can be done, but it means concerted action by all the schools in this part of the state.

A Fox River valley high school baseball league is proposed by Bubbles, sport writer of the Fond du Lac Reporter. He includes in his proposed organization Oshkosh, Kaukauna, Neenah, Waupun, Menasha, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Green Bay, Ripon, Fond du Lac and Appleton.

"Unless all the schools unite in putting baseball teams in the field, it is not advisable for one or two to launch the idea," Bubbles writes.

The plan suggested by Bubbles has been tried several times before but the idea failed of completion in each instance. Principal P. G. W. Keller of the Appleton high school states:

"Such a league would be a fine thing, and I would support a project like that if it were possible to make the organization. But the chief difficulty lies in the shortness of the season for the schools. It would be hardly possible to play a full schedule as the schools close early in June, leaving such a short time for the league to be in operation."

"Baseball is a fine sport and should be included in the athletic activities of a school. But the shortness of the season, added to the financial difficulties, would render the formation of the league difficult."

Baseball at the local school, while not of an interscholastic nature, arouses considerable interest every season. Inter-class games have been staged annually and this year probably will be no exception. Some rattling good games have been played in the past, and should a school team be organized there would be plenty of good material from which to choose the line-up.

Coach Vincent of the highs likes the idea, but believes that the shortness of the season and the financial problems present difficulties which make the plan impossible.

Twins are more common in cold than in warm countries, and among mothers of between 25 and 30 years than at other ages.

allies. I danced a lot. It was the big diversion our forces had in France. But all the time there was the one big purpose underneath, to help the morale of our own men and cement cordial relations between them and our allies."

PHILLIES MAY BE SURPRISE OF THE 1920 BALL SEASON

GABBY CRAYATH'S CREW HAS LOT OF PROMISE AND THE MEN ARE SHOWING FINE SPIRIT

(By Fred Turbyville)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Birmingham, Ala.—No one is picking the Phillies to win the pennant in the National League—not even Gabby Crayath, the manager. But after looking them over and being audience to Gabby's optimism one can't help but believe that these same 'Phils may prove the big surprise of the old circuit the coming season. He has speed and mighty power with the bat. Probably the best outfield in the league, at least one that will give the Giant trio a hard run, belongs to the 'Phils, and outside of third base, Crayath has a fair infield.

But the big change that may lead the 'Phils out of the wilderness is the change of spirit.

There was only one holdout among the 'Phils this spring and that one man was a holdout because the management didn't want him back. They didn't give him a boost in salary. That is remarkable in the hectic winter season of 1919-20, for holdouts certainly thrived in the recent frigid.

And they seem to like Crayath fine. Swats, Gabby or Gabby—never Clifford—Crayath is as common as an old shoe when it comes to mingling with the boys. There's nothing uppish about him. He's been one of them too long.

Crayath's biggest problem is at third. Like John McGraw he can fill the infield hole only with a recruit. That recruit will be either Ralph Miller of Fort Wayne, Ind., pal of Bill Wambamans of the Cleveland Indians, or Wrightstone of Elizabethtown, Penn. Both are young and very "rookie", but they have shown a lot of baseball. They're big fellows, have strong arms and are mighty fast. They're smart, too.

Mack Wheat from Brooklyn will be first-string catcher. Walter Traggerson will have to do battle with a youngster, Weatherow, for the second-string berth. Both will be kept. Weatherow last year caught for Rockford. Rockford played 136 games and Weatherow caught every inning.

"He was first, second and third-string catcher there," said Gabby. Crayath got a good pitcher when he secured Red Causey from the Braves. Causey didn't like to play for Stalines, but he'll do better with the 'Phils. Lee Meadows and George Smith are the two other mainstays of the right-handers.

Eppa Jentna River reported for spring training early. That is something unusual with Rixey and shows he's out to do a little better this year. Crayath thinks he'll have his best season.

Paullette or Luderus will be on first. Jack Miller at second and Captain Dave Baneroff at short.

Irish Meusel, Casey Stengel and Cy Williams will make up the outfield with Crayath pinch-hitting.

ILLINOIS WOMEN VOTE IN PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Illinois women will be permitted to vote at the presidential preference primary election April 13, regardless of whether the necessary number of states ratify the federal suffrage amendment.

Attorney General Brundage today reversed his former adverse ruling and declared that women can vote in the presidential primary election after Governor Frank O. Lowden asked for a separate ballot plan which would not invalidate primary elections.

WORKOUTS AT HOT SPRINGS PUT BALL MEN IN SLICK TRIM

RED SOX AND PIRATES ARE IN FOR REAL PHYSICAL PROGRAM DAILY AS WELL AS PLAYING BALL

(By Fred Turbyville)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Hot Springs, Ark.—They don't just toss a baseball around in this spring training camp. It isn't just baseball they get—it is perfect physical condition. That's why the Red Sox and Pirates are here. They've been here many times and they're strong for Hot Springs.

"Best training camp in south" is the unanimous expression of the managers, Ed Barrow and George Gibson.

After a winter of loafing, eating and perhaps intemperate living in a very few cases, the ball player has ample opportunity of getting his system back in perfect tune before the grind of another championship season begins in the big league.

But the training methods are radically unlike. The Pirates work out twice a day and take one of the "boiling out" baths. The Red Sox work out but once and loaf around the hotel all afternoon.

"I'm saving my men two workouts a day for good reasons," said Gibson of the Pirates. "In the first place you can't bank too heavily on the weather. If I knew we'd have perfect weather every day then one good workout a day would be enough. Even then the players would have nothing to do all afternoon and evening and that gets monotonous. The morning workout is light and they are not tired when they come in to lunch. I only let them get to the baths once a day—more would be weakening."

And then Ed Barrow: "One workout a day is plenty. We go out about 11 and work until we're good and tired and then trot into the hotel and take our baths. We have lunch at 2 and the afternoon is the player's own. And dinner comes at 7. Most of the players sleep until around 8."

The Pirates always come through West Baden, Ind., and drink the mineral waters there.

"It cleans out their system and the baths here do the rest," said Gibson. "As a result we're ready to start the season with each man in superior physical shape. I wouldn't trade the system for that of any other manager."

Smoking was at one time a penal offense in Turkey.

COMMERCE BOARD PLANS TO RAISE RAILROAD RATES

HEARINGS ON PETITIONS FOR 25 PER CENT INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES START SOON

(By George B. Waters)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington—The American people should get ready to bend their backs a little more and heave a little harder, to meet the high cost of living, for—

The Interstate Commerce Commission soon begins hearings on "how to apply the financial provision of the railway law" which passed the roads back to the private owners March 1.

Will rates be raised?

Yes, about $1,250,000,000 more annually in freight rates, if the owners get what they want. If former Director General Walker D. Hines was stating a correct theory in his speech at St. Louis last June, by the time the profiteers get through tacking this onto commodities, it will amount to $6,250,000,000 which the people will have to pay.

This is $312.50 for every family in the United States. Hines said for every dollar of freight increase $5 was added to the price of commodities.

The railroad owners are contending for a freight increase of 25 per cent. The valuation of the roads is supposed to be $20,000,000,000. The recent railroad law guarantees the railroads 6 per cent on their investment, 5 1/2 per cent for return on capital and 1/2 per cent for improvements and betterments. Although some members of the I. C. C. were opposed to the return of the railroads, and they are interested in holding down freight rates, it is generally conceded that sharp increases in rates will take place. But it would be unfair to them to attempt to give an estimate of what they think the increase should be.

The I. C. C. now has the biggest task connected with the government—the straightening out of this railroad financial tangle.

Under government operation the railroads were guaranteed a net return of $900,000,000 annually. That was 5.1 per cent on a valuation of approximately $18,000,000,000.

On a valuation of $20,000,000,000 the net return will have to be $1,250,000,000. This is an increase of only $200,000,000 over what the government has been guaranteeing and it would seem that the gross receipts will be near $8,000,000,000.

But what the I. C. C. is up against is, the railroad owners say they cannot operate as economically as the government did. They say it will take a freight rate increase of 25 per cent to pay for increases in operation and to give their 6 per cent net earnings. And that the private owners will have enormous increases in operating expenses, all government officials admit.

mill. The owners have been busy for months getting ready to prove their case.
